Infanta Eulalia of Spain Comes as a National Guest.

Arrival and Landing of the Princess and Her Party.

SHE ASTONISHES A HEALTH OFFICER WITH HER AFFABILITY.

Her Voyage Friends on the Reina Maria Christina Permitted to Kiss Her Hand at Parting—Prince Antoine of Orleans Does the Husband in Good Form—Departure From New York of the Party on Their Way to Washington.

QUARANTINE, Staten Island, May 19.—The day dawned bright and beautiful and the waters of the Narrows and the Lower Bay glistened and glinted in the sunlight. The arrival late yesterday afternoon of the Spanish steamer Reina Marie Christina, having on board the Infanta Eulalia, her husband, Prince Antoine d'Orleans, and the members of their party was a surprise, as she was not expected until early this morning. This, however, did not interfere with the arrangements made for the reception of the representative of the Queen Regent of Spain and the programme decided upon in New York and Washington will be carried out. The first boat to arrive at the quarantine station from New York was the tug boat J. Fred Lohman, which had left her pier at 6:15 a. m., having on board Spanish Consul Baldecena, Vice Consul Castro and the officers of the Spanish war vessels now at New York. Their destination was the lower bay, where they should board the Reina Maria Christina, and pay their respects to the Infanta. They made a short stay at Quarantine and then proceeded out for the bar. The Quarantine station presented an unusually deserted appearance, not a single steamer being in sight, but the Narrows would soon be filled with vessels conveying sightseers who desire to witness the transfer of the Infanta to the United States dispatch boat Dolphin, which lay outside waiting to escort the Reina Maria Christina to Quarantine.

At an early hour this morning the Dolphin passed out to the Hook and was followed shortly afterwards by the Spanish warship Infanta Isabela. At about 8:15 o'clock a navy yard tug that had been down the bay came alongside the Quarantine dock and received dispatches for Commander Davis of the Dolphin.

At about 10:15 o'clock the white hull of the Dolphin showed out plainly beyond the gray walls of Fort Wadsworth. About three cable lengths behind her followed the Reina Maria Christina, about the same distance behind came the Infanta Isabella. The Reina Maria Christina and the Infanta Isabella were dressed rainbow fashion, which the Dolphin, which carries no yards, had bunting set fore and aft. The Dolphin ran past the dock here and came to an anchor. The Reina Maria Christina followed, dropping her anchor in front of the wharf. The Infanta Isabella passed the Spanish vessels and took her position between the Dolphin and the Reina Maria Christina.

The transfer of the Infanta was made at Quarantine and not in the Lower Bay. Dr. Jenkins boarded the Reina Maria Christina to pay his respects to the Infanta and shortly afterwards an eight-oared boat with the Spanish flag in the stern and the purple standard of Spain in front of it, was pulled to the gangway. As the Infanta and Prince Antoine went over the side the Saragossa Band on the Reina Maria Christina struck up the Spanish national anthem.

The small boat then pulled around the Reina Maria Christina and headed for the Infanta Isabella, which was surrounded by tugs, yachts and small boats. As the boat bearing the Infanta approached the warship, yards were manned and as she went on a salute of twenty-one guns was fired. When the guns of the warship had ceased their booming the cannon at Fort Hamilton took up the strain and answered the salute gun for gun. Upon the cessation of firing the crew of the Infanta Isabella gave three cheers for their royal visitor. The ships were riding on short cables and their bows were turned southward and toward the ocean, the tide being flood. This necessitated the turning of the ships when they got under way.

At 11:10 o'clock the Infanta Isabella hove her anchor short and then made a sharp turn that took her well under the stern of the Reina Maria Christina, and headed up the bay, at first keeping close into the Long Island shore. She soon headed straight up the channel and proceeded for Jersey City.

The Dolphin was next away. As she weighed anchor all her flags save the American and the Spanish at the main masthead were hauled down, and as she attempted to follow close behind the Infanta Isabella she showed only five flags. The Dolphin got in trouble in attempting to make the turn. She got in close to the Long Island shore and as the tide was running a strong flood much difficulty was experienced in getting her nose pointed up the Narrows. It was found necessary to hoist the spanker and to back and fill several times before she succeeded in getting on her course. In the meantime the Infanta Isabella had almost disappeared from view. The Reina Maria Christina also had some trouble in turning.

Upon his return to quarantine Dr. Jenkins stated that his reception by the Infanta was extremely courteous. The health officer was received at the gangway by the officers of the ship, and almost immediately the Princess and her attendants emerged from the deck saloon, where the health officers were introduced. The Princess asked: "May I depart in your boat, doctor?"

"Yes, Madame, if you wish," replied the doctor.

The sea was choppy and the northwest wind a little spiteful and the Princess apparently did not relish the idea of transfer in a small boat. The ten-oared barge of the Infanta Isabella, in the meantime, had left that vessel and came alongside the accommodation ladder and the Princess bid each officer goodbye, extending her hand, which each deferentially kissed. She passed down the accommodation ladder which was draped with Spanish colors, and was handed to a seat in the stern of the barge, where she was followed by her husband, who removed his great cloak, displaying his brilliant blue uniform, and wrapped it about the Princess to protect her from the chilling breeze. The Princess waved her hand, smiling and bowing pleasantly to all aboard. The barge got under way and was rowed to the Infanta Isabella. It was after this point the Infanta Isabella got under way and proceeded under full headway towards the city.

It was evident that Dr. Jenkins expected to be received in the most formal manner, but he was most agreeably disappointed, finding the Infanta to be as democratic as a native born American; in fact had it not been for the members of her suite, the Infanta, he thinks, would gladly have availed herself of the doctor's invitation to proceed to the Infanta Isabel in his boat, the Gov. Flower.

The Infanta may, when occasion demands, be very ceremonious, but it was apparent today that she did not deem this to be the proper occasion for standing upon the dignity of her position. She was plainly but handsomely attired and wore a small dark-colored hat trimmed with feathers.

OFF FOR WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, May 19.—At exactly noon, while the midday whistles were blowing, the Dolphin dropped anchor in the Hudson River off the Pennsylvania Railroad station. Soon the Spanish war vessel with Eulalia aboard dropped anchor just above, and at 1 o'clock all was ready for landing. The Dolphin opened a saluting fire of twenty-one guns, the Spaniard answering gun for gun. Then Fort Hamilton took up the thunderous tune, and Eulalia and her followers were transferred to a cutter, which conveyed them in care of Commander Davis to a landing stage that had been especially prepared near the station. The visitors at once repaired to the waiting special train which, as soon as all were aboard, started for Washington.

THE TERRE HAUTE POST-OFFICE.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 19.—Civil Service Commissioner Theodore Roosevelt is here today investigating the Post-office muddle growing out of removals of the Republican force of clerks and carriers by the new Democratic Postmaster. He examined Postmaster Donham, ex-Postmaster Greiner, ex-Congressman Lamb, Editor Ball of the Gazette, Crawford Fairbanks and other leading men as to the facts concerning the removals. Pressed for an opinion as to whether this was not an unclassified office under Attorney-General Olney's decision until such time as the registry list is made up at Washington, Mr. Roosevelt said he had no opinion to offer, but if that was the right interpretation of Olney's decision then the new Postmaster had the right to make removals.

WASHINGTON, D. ## THE STARR GANG.

A Posse of Thirty Armed Men After the Indian Territory Brigands.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 19.—Dispatches received this morning state that a posse of thirty armed citizens was organized at Cedarville, Kan., last night for the purpose of capturing the Starr gang of bandits who have been threatening a raid on that town. The posse started this morning in pursuit of the gang into the Indian Territory. The Starr gang is heavily armed, and if overtaken, a desperate battle will follow. The leader of the desperadoes is Henry Starr, whose record as a bank robber and outlaw was given in a telegram to the POST-DISPATCH yesterday. They are as desperate a lot as the Dalton gang, and, indeed, comprise all that is left of that band of brigands.

"MY WATCHFUL ATTENTION"

Promised by Col. Jones to His Late Business Associates and Successor.

When called on to-day for a statement concerning the termination of his editorial control of the Republic Col. C. H. Jones gave a card to the public opening as follows:

ST. LOUIS, May 19, 1893.

The private business affairs of the Republic having been made the subject of public gossip and newspaper conjecture, it is, perhaps, proper for me to say, as the only thing I shall say through the newspapers on the subject, that so far as the action of a majority of the present Board of Directors can accomplish that object, I have ceased to be editor of the paper. I remain a director of the company, however, and its largest stockholder, and shall continue to give its conduct and affairs my watchful attention.

He made no reference to the published attacks on him, the balance of his communication being of a character highly complimentary to his late subordinates and himself.

Ruesthe was affected with heart disease and it is thought that he was taken with an attack when he fell. His back was broken and he died in ten minutes.

HARD AT WORK

Presbyterians in the Midst of Their Annual Convention Labors.

Presentation of a Unique Gavel to the Moderator.

GRATIFYING REPORTS FROM THE VARIOUS BOARDS OF THE CHURCH.

Accomplishments in Many Fields—Missions, Education, Church Extension and Publication—Proceedings of the General Assembly This Morning in the New York Avenue Church—Appointments to the Chairmanships of Committees.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church has elected Rev. Willis Craig of the McCormack University of Chicago moderator. The nominations for the chair were Rev. Charles A. Dickey of Philadelphia, Rev. T. A. Baker of Philadelphia, Dr. Craig of Chicago, representing the Northwest, which has never been recognized in the election of a moderator, and Rev. C. W. Stewart, D. D., of Washington, president of the Whitworth College.

Dr. Dickey withdrew and Dr. Stewart followed his example. The result of the ballot was: Craig, 324; Baker, 198. Total, 522.

The annual reports of the various church boards, made public to-day and to be taken up by the assembly from time to time, show encouraging results in every branch of the work.

A NATIONAL GROG-SHOP.

The report of the permanent Committee on Temperance makes some recommendations that will come before the assembly. Referring to the World's Fair the report says: "We cannot contemplate except with feelings of shame the proposed spectacle to be placed before all the world of a vast national grogshop and a vast national exhibition of the trampling down of law."

The establishment by Congress of an impartial commission of inquiry concerning the liquor traffic is favored. "The bill," continues the report, "has several times passed the Senate, but the liquor people have always defeated it in the Lower House. Local option is not regarded as the best and ultimate solution of the liquor problem, but the most of the Presbyteries here favored it as a stepping-stone toward general prohibition.

Among all the reports of Presbyteries the license system has no advocate or apologist. The report emphasizes the statement that the church is not a political organization, but owes it to God and humanity to give unequivocal utterance on such moral questions.

"And though a question in morals should," says the report, "through the action of political parties, become a political question also the church is not on that account to be precluded from dealing with it. The indorsement of a civil government or of a political party must not be permitted to exempt immorality from the rebuke of the church, and that which would be clearly wrong if done by the individual does not become right when thousands join in its performance."

The report also protests against the institution known as the "army canteen," in which it claims army officers and soldiers are detailed as saloon-keepers.

The report of the special Committee on Systematic Beneficence shows that the Christian Standard has attained an average monthly issue of 24,220 copies.

The total receipts of all the boards during the year amount to $2,779,662, an increase over 1892 of $178,765.

CHURCHES AND COLLEGES.

The report of the Board of Church Erection Fund shows that during the year there were 239 applications for assistance, upon which grants were made aggregating $105,391 and loans $61,192. This total exceeds any previous year in the history of the board, and still there is an insufficiency of supplies. More than one half the churches on the roll of the Assembly do not contribute to this fund and the board begins the new year with an empty treasury and many pressing demands upon it.

The result of the year's work of the Board of Aid for Colleges and Academies has not proved a disappointment to the expectations of the church. During the year the receipts have been $75,134 and the donations in the shape of aid aggregated $63,630. Forty institutions have been assisted and twenty States occupied. The aggregate enrollment of students is 4,002, of whom 2,740 are engaged in systematic Bible study. The report of the board in charge of the missions for freedmen shows that nearly $200,000 annually is being expended in this direction, with many good results. The expenditures last year amounted to $193,002, while the receipts were $178,310. Under this board there are 152 ordained ministers and 258 churches, with a membership of 16,293 and 19,472 Sunday-school scholars.

During the year the report of the Board of Relief shows that 722 persons were afforded assistance, 94 new names being placed upon the rolls last year. There are 76 ministers over 70 years of age retired, the oldest being 94 and 35 of the number being over 80. The total appropriation for this work was $152,492.

FOREIGN AND HOME MISSIONS.

The report of the Board of Foreign Missions displays a very satisfactory condition of affairs, the only gloom being caused by the death of four missionaries. During the year 46 new missionaries were sent into the field, making a total in connection with the board of 623, which, with native agents of all grades, reaches a total of 1,647, including 188 ordained ministers. The detailed reports from the missions in Japan, China, Korea, Siam and Laos, India, Syria, Africa, Mexico, Central America and South America, the board says, call for thanksgiving. The outlook was never more encouraging.

"In China," says the report, "notwithstanding petty persecutions and apprehension of more serious opposition in retaliation of the iniquitous legislation of our Government against the Chinese in the United States, steady progress has been made."

The total number of conversions reported by all missionaries for the year was 3,452, an increase of 10 per cent over the preceding period. The total receipts from all sources amounted to $1,014,504, of which the women's societies and boards contributed $329,889. The expenditures for missions in the more important fields were as follows: Africa, $34,467; China, $180,087; India, $157,670; Japan, $94,962; Korea, $33,583; Mexico, $89,461; Persia, $96,042; Siam and Laos, $47,953; South America, $87,008; Syria, $61,206; United States Indians, $19,848. The expenses of the home department were $50,600.

The reports of the Board of Home Missions do not show the increase that was hoped for at the commencement of the year. Touching reference is made to the death of Dr. Henry Kendall and to the demise of the faithful missionaries. It is shown that during the last year there had been organized only 132 new churches, a smaller number than usual, a result due chiefly to a want of funds. The year began with a debt of $71,160, nearly all of which has been canceled and new work to the amount of $31,444 undertaken. The total receipts of the Board were $969,454. In analyzing the work of the year the board deals in detail with the demands upon it made from 350 sections of the country—the older States, the six new States recently admitted and the existing Territories. The hindrances to the work of home missions are pointed out as being "chiefly the scattered condition of the people, especially in the West, their migratory habits, the large number who do not speak English, the machinations of the Jesuits, the spirit of uneasiness parvading the masses, and lastly, existing skepticism and infidelity."

The growth of the work is shown by the organization of churches during the year. The prospects for the future are spoken of as being bright, but bristling with all kinds of changes.

The report speaks in words of unstinted praise concerning the labor of the women of the church in school work, that branch of the work showing at present 122 schools, with 379 teachers and 8,178 scholars, and with total receipts amounting to $173,142. The general summary of the report condenses the most important details of the year's work, as follows: Number of missionaries, 1,723; number of missionaries teachers, 379; additions on profession of faith, 10,028; additions on certificate, 6,838; total members, 699,259; total in congregations, 144,005; Sunday-schools organized, 380; number of Sunday-schools, 2,320; membership of Sunday-schools, 152,915; church edifices (value of same, $4,752,804), 1,755; church edifices built during the year (cost of same, $356,468), 115; church edifices repaired and enlarged (cost of same, $76,587), 837; church debts cancelled, $153,110; churches self-sustaining this year, 50; churches organized, 182; number of parsonages (value, $502,689), 412.

ASSEMBLY PROCEEDINGS.

Devotional exercises with which was opened the second session of the Presbyterian General Assembly were conducted by Rev. Smith of Baltimore.

Rev. McAuley of Dayton, O., moved a reconsideration of the vote of yesterday on the World's Fair Sunday opening for the purpose of offering a substitute for that resolution, going more into detail. Reconsideration was refused by an almost unanimous vote and Mr. McAuley then moved to add the substitute to the resolution of yesterday, but the Assembly refused to adopt it or to consider it.

Rev. Bartlett, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements then presented to Moderator Craig the gavel prepared for this Assembly, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gurley, the former the son of Rev. P. D. Gurley, first pastor of the church in which the Assembly meets. It is composed largely of cherry from Mount Vernon, with pieces of the United States frigate Constitution, the capital stone of the Washington Monument and the pew in New York Avenue Church occupied by the late President Lincoln when in attendance upon the services conducted by Dr. Gurley. The name of Lincoln was greeted with applause.

Dr. Craig responded in a few well chosen words.

Dr. Harsha of Nebraska moved the appointment of a committee to formulate an expression of opinion upon the Chinese exclusion act, as it affects the foreign missionary work. The motion was adopted.

Clerk Roberts announced that the reports of the various boards, committees and officers of the church and assembly had been received, with few exceptions, and would be duly presented. The reports of the church boards, he said, would be distributed in the course of the day. The answers of the Presbyteries to the overtures sent down last year had also been received, Dr. Roberts stated, and the results woule be announced in due time.

A. D. F. Randolph of New York presented the report of the Special Committee on Publication of the Church at Home and Abroad detailing the changes that have been made in that publication with a view to improving it in matter and appearance. The expenditures for 1892 were $29,831; receipts, $29,564; deficit $167; average monthly circulation, 21,048. The deficit for 1891 was $3,888. The report was accepted.

Dr. Smith of Baltimore, introduced to the Moderator, and through him to the Assembly, Rev. Duncan of the Episcopal Church, who represented the Joint Committee, which had under consideration the subject of the church unity. This committee has been in session for the past two days and Rev. Duncan was selected to represent the Episcopal branch before this Assembly. He predicted great good as the outcome of the committee's work. He said that there were four points which the Episcopal Church believed with the Assembly as a basis of union, and upon three of them had practically agreed. The fourth, upon which no conclusion had been reached, involved largely, a difference in terms. As the final outcome of the committee's work, Dr. Duncan prophesied practical and harmonious unity of the churches and that in the not very far distant future instead of two church organizations, there shall be but one.

The special committee on the Chinese exclusion act was announced to consist of S. M. Catchings of Detroit; Wm. H. Stratton, Salem; N. J. and Cyrus I. Pershing, Pottsville, Pa.

Rev. William Henry Roberts was announced to be Vice Moderator.

After some routine business of no general interest had been disposed of, ex-Moderator Young projected into the proceedings the first of the important questions before the Assembly, the report of the committee upon the relation of the Assembly and the theological seminaries. It covered the history and methods pursued by the committee in the progress of its work, as well as the history of the relations of the assembly and of theological seminaries beginning with the organization of the institution at Princeton, which acknowledged the General Assembly as its patron and source of power and authority.

The committee says it has come to no conclusion as to what method should be adopted by the church either by securing a more effective control over the property and teaching of existing seminaries or of securing control of the teaching and property of future seminaries.

The report, on its appendix, furnishes full information respecting the plan of organization and methods of management of the various institutions allied to the church.

Dr. Young surrendered the floor to Elder Thomas McDougall of Cincinnati, who differed from the report which was the unanimous expression of the committee. Mr. McDougall said that he believed the time had come in the matter of the control of theological seminaries when the genius of the Presbyterian Church should be at least equal to the legislative ability displayed in ordinary business and that if any teacher employed for a specific purpose at a specific salary should for any reason become unfit to discharge his duties, a way might be found to dispense with his services without splitting up the church. Applause followed this.

When Mr. McDougall had finished Mr. Roberts moved that the report be approved and that the committee be continued.

After a passage between Dr. Young and Prof. Brown a vote of thanks was extended to the committee for its diligence and it was continued for further labor.

The assembly then took a recess.

BLACK-BALLED

Sorosis Refuses to Admit Lotta Crabtree to Membership.

Her Sponsors Indignantly Tender Their Resignations.

TWO OTHER LADIES REJECTED AMID GREAT CONFUSION.

Miss Georgia Cayvan Who Recommended Lotta Says She Had Never Met Her But Wrote the Letter on General Report Regarding the Lady's Character—She Will Not Follow Her Friends' Example But Will Remain in the Club.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Sorosis held its last business meeting for the club year on Monday, and although the sun shone without and the birds sang and nature smiled, there was in the club room a storm and discord. If reports be true, it was one of the most sensational meetings ever held by that very exclusive and highly literary organization. The cause of the dissension was obscure, but the effect was most apparent and if the ladies did not sit up with a head-ache, certainly each went home with one. They were so disturbed by the unusual proceedings that they forgot their customary caution and talked. They told their friends about it and quite accidentally one of them told a reporter.

Mrs. Jennie de la M. Losiere, the President of Sorosis, was away attending the Women's Congress in Chicago, and as none of the three Vice-Presidents was in attendance it became the duty of Mrs. Fannie Helmuth, the Chairman of the Executive Committee, to preside. Immediately after roll-call Mrs. Helmuth demanded that Mrs. Sarah Kidder of Chicago should retire from the meeting. Her reason for making the demand was that Mrs. Kidder was a remote member, and, therefore, not entitled to attend the business meetings. This was the beginning of the unpleasantness. Several of the ladies arose and protested against the ruling, one of them making the caustic remarks: "Mrs. Kidder has been a member of Sorosis many more years than the Chairman has, and is quite as much entitled to attend its meetings."

But Mrs. Helmuth held to her point and Mrs. Kidder retired, although there were audible expressions of "Sit still," "Don't you go," "She has not any business to order you out," all of which was not pleasant for the chairman.

As this was to be the last business meeting for several months, there was a long list of names to be voted upon for membership. The first candidate was Miss Lotta Crabtree. Her name had been proposed by Mrs. Edward E. Kidder and her vouchers were Mrs. Sydney Rosenfeld and Mrs. A. M. Palmer. Miss Georgia Cayvan, who is a member of Sorosis, sent a letter enthusiastically recommending Miss Crabtree.

It is the custom of Sorosis to discuss the qualifications of a candidate before the name is voted upon. The only objection made to Miss Crabtree was that she was an actress. But when the ballot was taken the chairman solemnly announced: "Ladies, the candidate is not elected."

For a moment there was silence, or as near an approach to it as was possible in a gathering of more than 150 women. Then a long drawn murmur of dissent and protest ran around the room.

Mrs. E. E. Kidder sprang to her feet. She was trembling with excitement.

"This is outrageous," she exclaimed, "the most outrageous thing I ever heard of. I resign my membership. I won't belong to an organization that will be guilty of such a thing."

"I am sorry," said Mrs. A. M. Palmer, with flashing eyes, "that Sorosis can be so little, so narrow, so mean. I also resign. I'm ashamed of Sorosis."

Mrs. Rosenfeld declared that the club had offered an insult to her as a voucher, an insult which she would never forget.

One of the members who seemed to desire peace proposed a second ballot. Her motion was adopted and a second ballot was taken with the same result as before. When this result was announced the ladies, with the exception of the few who had cast black balls—it only requires five to defeat a candidate—were speechless with rage. They simply sat and glared. Evidently they thought they could not do the subject justice in words.

The Chairman hastened to announce the name of the second candidate, Mrs. John Dillon. The usual commendatory letters regarding the candidate were read, the vouchers said their good words, and nobody interposed an objection. Yet, when the balloting was concluded the Chairman again made the announcement: "The candidate is not elected."

There were more bitter remarks, so bitter that the Chairman felt called upon to announce that any member of Sorosis had a right to blackball a candidate if she wanted to, and to swell the storm the Chairman gave the third name on the list of applicants, Mrs. Thaddeus B. Wakeman.

Mrs. E. B. Foote arose and said that it had been stated in her hearing that Mrs. Wakeman's name should not pass the club. In view of this she requested the member who proposed Mrs. Wakeman to withdraw her name, "lest Sorosis should further disgrace itself by insulting Mrs. Wakeman as two previous candidates had been insulted."

The ladies present were furious when the application of Miss Crabtree was defeated; they were still more furious when Mrs. Dillon was refused, but they were in a condition approaching frenzy when Mrs. Wakeman's name was thus disposed of. The lines of "Cushing's Manuel" were forgotten. Many of them jumped to their feet, their cheeks flushed and with voices pitched much above their ordinary key, spoke vigorously and plainly without the customary preface, "Mrs. Chairman."

It required all the strength of the Chairman's lungs to make herself heard when she spoke the name of the fourth candidate. This was none other than Miss Alice Cary Croley, called "The granddaughter of Sorosis," because she is the daughter of "Jennie June Croley," the Sorosis organizer.

"I wish to say," said the Chairman "that Miss Alice Croley was named in Sorosis in honor of its President. We surely ought to take care of our own."

A semblance of order having been restored it was suggested that it would be a graceful compliment to Mrs. Croley if the club were to set aside its rules and elect Miss Alice by acclamation.

Cries of "no, no, no!" were uttered by many voices, and chaos reigned again. Custodians with boxes affected by the excitement ran about wildly and in a number of instances offered the boxes to the same ladies several times. Few seemed to know afterwards how many times they voted or whom they voted for and the great majority are still unaware whether Miss Croley was elected or not, not having heard the announcement of the result if any was made.

It became apparent that order was out of the question that day at least, the names for admission were withdrawn by their vouchers and the ladies adjourned.

The above telegram was shown to Miss Georgia Cayvan, who is playing with the Lyceum Theater Co. in "Charity Ball" at the Olympic Theater in St. Louis this week.

Miss Cayvan read the story of the Sorosis row very carefully and with twitches of the mouth. But she did not permit her expressive features to unduly betray her sentiments, and when she finished reading she said calmly:

"I never met Miss Crabtree, but I have always heard only what is charming of her. As I am the only active member of Sorosis who is an actress, Mrs. E. E. Kidder asked me to write a letter of recommendation for Miss Crabtree. I told her that I did not know Miss Crabtree but could conscientiously say that I had always heard of her only what is good and womanly, and my letter, written in Chicago, was in that strain. Indeed, if I had known that the affair was to obtain publicity I would not have written the letter. If Sorosis has black-balled Miss Crabtree, it can only be because the members have a poor opinion of her on account of the frolicsome character of the plays in which she used to appear. Certainly the action of the club cannot be taken as a sign of prejudice among the members against the stage. Although I am the only active member who is an actress, there is no reason why actresses should not join, because there are many noble women on the stage, and Sorosis is not a woman's rights organization. Indeed religion and suffrage are tabooed topics and the legitimate subjects for discussion are those that are womanly and about women. You will notice that only five blackballs are needed to prevent the election of a candidate."

"Do you intend to resign or to protest because Miss Crabtree was not elected?"

"Indeed I do not. I am not acquainted with the circumstances and I have never met Miss Crabtree, although, as I said, I always heard the best reports of her."

Miss Cayvan was very politic in her remarks and asked the reporter to note the fact that she had to be careful of what she said.

THE KAISER'S BILL.

Moderate Radicals Strengthening Wilhelm's Hands in His Fight.

BERLIN, May 19.—A moderate radical manifesto, signed by Theo. Mommsen, the historian and other influential persons, has been issued to the public. It appeals briefly to the electors throughout the country to preserve the Empire from a serious crisis by supporting men of good and radical principles, and expresses a desire to come to terms with the Government on the weighty military question.

On yesterday afternoon the German Emperor personally unveiled the monument erected at Goerlitz in Silesia in honor of his grandfather, Emperor William I. In his speech the Emperor said:

This festivity is in the midst of serious times. Eleven years ago my grandfather addressed you the most important words. Now we must maintain that William I. created and secured the future of our fatherland. Our army requires increasing remodeling. I have summoned the nation to provide the means. All other questions are inferior to this, the most serious question, one upon which depends the very existence of the fatherland. And we need absolute unity in order to solve the question. Whatever separates us as Germans, whatever causes views to diverge, must now be put aside, because it imperils the future of the fatherland.

CONNECTING THE COLONIES.

SYDNEY, New South Wales, May 19.—The steamer Miowara sailed from here for Vancouver, British Columbia, yesterday, this inaugurating a new direct service between Australia and British Columbia.

A NEW UKASE.

BERLIN, May 19.—A new ukase has been issued expelling the Jews from Asiatic provinces of the Russian Empire. The enforcement of this ukase will cause widespread suffering, as the decree includes within its scope thousands of Jewish refugees from Shah Jeth Ali's persecutions, who entered Russian territory under a guaranty that they would be protected in the enjoyment of religious freedom.

KILLED BY A PLAYMATE.

Young Robert Emmet Fitzwilliams Fatally Wounds Thomas Ahearn.

An unfortunate and sad affair occurred yesterday afternoon when Thomas Ahearn, a boy of 17 years, was shot and instantly killed in a boyish quarrel by Robert Emmet Fitzwilliams. The killing happened on the northwest corner of Cook and Prairie avenues, where a number of boys were playing base ball together. Young Fitzwilliams was sitting on the fence watching the crowd when the boys in fun began to throw the ball at him and then threw the bat and sticks and stones. The young man returned the missiles with spirit, but kept his temper until young Ahearn hit him on the leg with a piece of brick. This young Fitzwilliams returned rather forcibly, and both boys rushed angrily toward each other. When within a few paces of one another, Fitzwilliams drew his pistol and shot before anyone realized what he was about. The ball went through Ahearn's heart, and he dropped forward with a single groan.

Fitzwilliams ran home, still holding the pistol intending to tell his mother, but she was not there, so he told his sister, who fainted. Detective Howard put the boy under arrest.

Ahearn lived at No. 3864 Page avenue with his parents, his father being foreman of Engine company No. 17. Fitzwilliams lives at No. 3786 Cook avenue with his father, John J. Fitzwilliams, a well-known citizen. Young Fitzwilliams gives the same account of the events preceding the shooting as the rest do, and adds that intending to be smart he carried a pistol and drew it on Ahearn to scare him. He intended to shoot it off in the air, he says, but it was discharged prematurely. Young Fitzwilliams bears a good reputation and is much disturbed over the unfortunate termination of the quarrel. The greatest sympathy is felt for the boy and his parents.

The boy had found the revolver which was the property of a deceased relative in a drawer at his home and secretly abstracted it to carry and show to his playmates. His idea was to frighten his playmate, but unaccustomed to handling a weapon, it was discharged unexpectedly.

This morning young Fitzwilliams was released on a $3,000 bond furnished by George Grassmuck.

WANTED TO SEE WELSOR HANG.

Counterfeiter Christy Has Trouble in Jail With the Wife Murderer.

Fred Christy, who has been confined in jail at the Four Courts under a sentence imposed in the United States District Court for counterfeiting, was taken from the jail today by a United States Deputy Marshal and brought to the United States Court, where a motion is pending to have Christy taken to Clayton to serve the rest of his sentence. Christy made complaint of the treatment he received in jail. It seems it became necessary to discipline him on a few occasions. Some time ago he got into a quarrel with Sam Welsor, who is under sentence of death for the killing of Clementine Manning. Christy made a remark expressive of the pleasure it would give him to see Welsor hung, and Welsor knocked him down. When the coffee would be given out in the jail, Christy it is stated, used to secure an extra allowance and would heat it later by burning paper. His paper giving out, he on one occasion ripped his mattress and took the excelsior from the mattress and burned it to heat his coffee. He was locked in the dungeon for this. Christy also complained at having his letters read by the jailor.

GONE INTO COURT.

Receiver Appointed for the Clover Leaf Railroad.

TROUBLES WHICH BROUGHT ABOUT THIS UNLOOKED-FOR ACTION.

S. R. Calloway, the President of the Road, Named as Receiver by Judge Ricks—The Road's Condition—M., K. & T. Directors Coming to St. Louis.

CLEVELAND, O., May 19.—In the United States Circuit Court this morning a receiver was appointed for the Clover Leaf Railroad. The order was granted by Judge A. J. Ricks in the United States District Court at 11 o'clock on the application of Stout & Cory of New York, who filed a bill against the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City Railroad, claiming to have a judgment for $40,000 in the Common Pleas Court at Toledo upon which execution had been returned unsatisfied.

In their bill these plaintiffs set forth that a large amount of unsecured claims are pending against the defendants in the state of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, aggregating in all nearly $1,000,000. Suits, they say, have been begun on many of these claims and others are about to be instituted and the road is insolvent and unable to meet them. The prosecution of this great number of suits as is set forth would entail a great accumulation of costs and to avoid this unnecessary cost and prevent the struggles of conflicting creditors and the depreciation of the property of the company and to protect all creditors alike, they asked for the appointment of a receiver.

Col. Robert G Ingersoll, general counsel ed to the appointment of Mr. Calloway on behalf of the company for the company, who was present, consent- and application was at once made before Judge Woods of the United States Circuit Court at Chicago for a similar appointment for Indiana and Illinois.

The Toledo St. Louis & Kansas City Railroad Co. extends from Toledo to St. Louis, a distance of 453 miles, and has its general office in Toledo. It was formerly a narrow-gauge road, but a few years ago a number of large capitalists with Mr. Samuel T. Kneeland of New York, formerly of the Union Pacific, at their head, secured control of the stock and greatly improved the property. Its gauge was changed to standard, and to all appearance it was in a most flourishing condition. Its freight line was known as the "Clover Leaf," and it was apparently doing a large business.

M., K. & T. DIRECTORS.

They Will Arrive in St. Louis Sunday—Transfer of the M., K. & E.

The new Board of Directors of the M., K. & T., who are now in Texas on a tour of inspection, will, according to the present programme, arrive in St. Louis next Sunday night or Monday morning. A meeting of the directors has been arranged for Monday, at which time the M., K. & E. will be formally turned over to the M., K. & T. The road, which extends from New Franklin, Mo., to Texas Junction, is 182 miles in length, trains over the route reaching St. Louis over the C., B. & Q. from Texas Junction. The road is not yet completed but the construction company has given it out that through trains will be running over the line within thirty days, long before the Q. bridge, now in course of construction at the mouth of the Missouri, is completed. The M., K. & E. will have no terminus in St. Louis at the present, but will reach St. Louis from Texas Junction, according to a previous contract, over the C., B. & Q.

Classification Committee to Meet.

Quite an important meeting of the Western Classification Committee will be held in St. Louis next week, Chairman J. T. Ripley having informed the members of the committee to meet him in St. Louis on Tuesday next. The committee meets twice a year, and at this meeting the classification of articles of freight over seventy Western roads will be discussed and. One hundred and twenty-six subjects have been docketed for this session, which will have to be disposed of before Thursday evening, as several members of the committee have important business in Chicago on Friday. The meeting will convene in parlor 22 of the Lindell at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

TO END THE STRIKE.

Dock Laborers of England and Owners Come to Terms.

HULL, England, May 19.—The parties who have been acting as mediators with a view of bringing about a cessation of the union dock laborers' strike did not cease their efforts on account of the conference with that object proving a failure yesterday, the mediators succeeding in effecting a resumption of the conference between the representatives of the Shipping Federation and of the Unionists, and after further discussion terms for ending the strike were agreed upon subject to ratification by the body of strikers.

A mass-meeting of union workers has been arranged to decide upon the question of ratification. The union dock laborers ratified the agreement to resume work upon the terms arranged at the conference to-day, and they will go back to work on Tuesday next.

AN EXPLODED SENSATION.

Suspicious Find at Fairview Turns Out to Be Calf Brains.

Citizens in the vicinity of Tuxedo Park were greatly excited this morning by the discovery of what looked like strong evidence of a mysterious murder. Underneath the bridge which spans the River Des Peres at the old Brown's road crossing of trains, blood and brown hair were scattered around on the river bank and there was every evidence of a struggle having taken place. Prosecuting Attorney Lee Mudd and Sheriff Garret were notified and visited the spot to make an investigation. Butcher John Hohmann of Fairview knocked the threatened sensation in the head by identifying the suspicious find as the remains of a slaughtered calf which he had killed on the spot a few days ago. The officers felt greatly relieved at having the stain removed from their official acumen.

TWO FOOLISH MEN.

They Take Morphine on a Bet and One Is Dead.

DENVER, Colo., May 19.—Kirk Crosby and Frank Daly, two well-known gamblers at Rico, a mining camp in the southwestern part of the State, yesterday laid a wager as to who could take the most morphine. When discovered the second-named man was dead, but by hard work the life of the other one was saved. This morning he was barely alive to tell how the matter came up and is greatly rejoiced to think that he won his bet.

SIKESTON, MO., May 18.—A laborer named Jared Wilkinson, employed at Howlett Bros.' saw mill, five miles east of this city, accidentally fell upon the [illegible] that runs the main saw and was [illegible] injured.

STRUCK M'DONALD.

Jacob Slupsky Makes an Assault on the Attorney.

AN EXCITING EPISODE FOLLOWS THE TRIAL OF THE FRENCH ARSON CASE.

Slupsky Objected to M'Donald's Cross-Examination of Him—After Striking the Attorney Slupsky Receives Rough Treatment From Bystanders—Four Courts News.

Shortly after the Criminal Court had adjourned at 1 o'clock this afternoon, an exciting tilt, which for a few moments threatened to end in a personal encounter, occurred between Attorney Marshall F. McDonald and Jacob Slupsky, a witness in the French arson case which has been on trial there for the past few days. Slupsky who is a witness for the defendant French, was cross-examined by Attorney McDonald, and took offense at some of the personal questions put by the latter. When coort adjourned he attempted to take the attorney to task on this account, and not receiving any satisfaction, it is said, applied an offensive epithet to him. McDonald replied in kind and in return Slupsky attempted to strike him. The attorney successfully warded off the blow and would have returned it with interest had not Detectives Gallagher, Smith and Roach, who were standing near, rushed between them.

Slupsky was ejected from the room, but his blood was up and he was evidently looking for a fight. Outside he met Charles E. Carroll, an insurance adjuster, and with him he attempted to renew hostilities. The detectives again rushed between the men and hustled the offender out of the building in no gentle manner. The occurrence created no little consternation in the corridors of the Four Courts, owing to Slupsky's threatening gestures and his loudly uttered threats to shoot some of his tormentors. Had it not been for the fact that he was present as a witness in a case, he would probably have received considerably more rough treatment, which his conduct merited.

Charges Embezzlement.

A warrant was sworn out this afternoon by the manager of the Prudential Insurance Co. against Thos. W. Mitchell, charging him with having embezzled $32.89 of the company's money on April 30 last.

WRONG MEASUREMENTS.

The Grand Avenue Railway Co. Officials Criticise a Plat—City Hall News.

Mr. J. W. Buel, representing the Grand Avenue Railway Co., was at the office of Street Commissioner Murphy this morning and explained to him that the measurements as laid down on the plat given yesterday were not correct.

Mr. Buel claims that when the proposed tracks pass Tower Grove Park there will be a space of at least nine feet between the outer track and the curb. This is ample room for the passage of an ordinary wagon or vehicle.

Maj. Murphy informed him that he would request the committee not to report on the matter to-day at noon and ask permission of the board for time to visit the locality and make a personal inspection.

Got the Wrong Letter.

Mayor Walbridge to-day received a letter from Jesse R. Joyner of Ashdown, Ark., which was evidently intended for Mrs. E. A. Pegg of Centralia, Lewis Co., Washington. The letter stated that the writer had noticed in the Little Rock Gazette an inquiry made by Mrs. Pegg as to the whereabouts of her two little girls who were missing. He enclosed a clipping taken from the Post-Dispatch of May 11, giving an account of two little girls who answered their description and who had walked all the way from Hot Springs to St. Louis and were placed in the Spruce Street Mission.

Mr. Joyner further stated in his letter that he had written to the Mayor of St. Louis and given him the address of Mrs. Pegg. He evidently inclosed the two letters in wrong envelopes and Mrs. Pegg has probably received the one intended for the Mayor. The children are still at the Mission.

A telegram was received to-day from the Police Department at Centralia, Wash., in reply to the telegram sent yesterday notifying Mrs. E. A. Pegg that her two daughters were in St. Louis. The telegram stated that Mrs. Pegg left Centralia yesterday for Remus, Mich., before the telegram containing the information of her daughters' whereabouts reached there.

Board of Public Improvements.

The Board of Public Improvements met to-day and awarded the contract for the reconstruction of McPherson avenue, between Vandeventer and Taylor avenues, with asphalt, to the Barber Asphalt Co. for $83,195.73.

The following sewer contracts were also awarded: Section of southeastern sewer to G. Kyerman, Jr., for $8,822 96; Ohio Avenue District section to John Gilbaus for $3,849.50; Stein Street District section to Robert Sheehan for $4,481.20, and the Nebraska avenue section to G. Kyerman, Jr., for $2,014.87.

Thomas J. Hennesy, Supervisor of Plumbing, reported that Edward Thierry & Co. had been guilty of violating a city ordinance by cutting a hole in a 12-inch sewer pipe in an alley between Fall and Spring avenues and Montgomery and North Market streets. Thierry & Co. will be given a hearing on May 26.

Leon L. Hull, E. C. Robbins and J. H. Gerhard, who have the contract for sprinkling the Lindell boulevard, made application to use hose instead of wagons for that purpose. They allege that they can do the work more effectually with hose, as they are compelled to water trees and wash sidewalks and gutters. It was referred to the Committee on Streets. The matter of approving the Grand Avenue Railway Co.'s plat was laid over to permit the Committee on Streets to make a personal inspection of the streets where it is proposed to lay the tracks.

City Printing Awarded.

City Register Pocock to-day opened the bids for city printing for the ensuing year. The papers that bid for the work were: German—Amerika, Anzeiger des Westens and the Westliche Post; English—Republic and Star-Sayings. The lowest bidder among the German papers was the Anzeiger des Westens, 3½ cents per line, and among the English papers the Star-Sayings, 4 98-100 cents per line.

The other bids were: Amerika, 4 cents; Westliche Post, 5 cents; Republic, 10 cents.

The Star-Sayings' bid for the pamphlet work was $1 per page and the Republic's 60 cents. The latter's bid was rejected because it did not conform to the advertisement.

Sanitary Affairs.

The Committee on Sanitary Affairs of the Council took under consideration to-day the garbage bill, and the Railroad Committee heard arguments on the Union Depot and Southwestern Railway extension bills.

St. Louis Browns Forgot a Few Points Yesterday.

A base ball game is not alone a physical contest. Mental discipline in all games, business, professions or vocations is, indeed, essential to their successful prosecution. Three obstacles are met with as everyone knows. First, inattention; second, defective memory; third, failure at revivification. The "Browns" may need mental culture, after the manner as taught by the great mental explorer, Prof. A. Loisette. This distinguished platform orator and teacher will give two free lectures next Monday, after which he organizes a class for a course of three lectures. Don't miss it.

ROAD RACE HANDICAPS.

Time Allowances in the Handicap Event at Forest Park To-Morrow.

All of the details of the big Forest Park bicycle road race have been attended to, and everything is in readiness for the starter. The final meeting of the association was held at the club-house of the St. Louis Cycling Club on Wednesday evening, and the committee reported everything in perfect order. Park Commissioner Fechter has had the roads rolled and well sprinkled so that they will present a perfectly smooth surface and the railroad companies have given orders that no switching shall be done on the tracks in the park until after the race. The start will be made at 4 o'clock sharp and the race, which will be seventeen and a half miles long, or five times over the course laid out, will be ended shortly after 5 p. m. The finish will be near the Blair statue, the starting place.

After the race the cyclists will repair to the restaurant, where covers for 100 will be laid and the prizes presented. Mr. A. J. Emery will act as toast master and speeches will be made by Messrs. Davis, Holm, Robert and W. W. Watts, editor of the Southern Wheelman. Mayor Walbridge will view the race from the judges' stand by special invitation, and was to have been present at the supper, but will not be able to attend.

The association has adopted a somewhat novel scheme of awarding the prizes as they are very numerous. The first man to finish will be allowed to choose whatever article on the list pleases him best, the second after him and so on until all twenty prizes are disposed of, then the prize for the last man in will be given. The three gold time medals will, of course, go to the three men who make the fastest time. Mr. A. C. Davis, will act as timer and has been given the privilege of choosing his own assistants.

Of the entries, the St. Louis Cycling Club leads the list with sixteen, the Pastimes have fourteen, the South Side Club six, the Carondelets, the North St. Louis Bicycle Club and the Y. M. C. A. Club, one each. Eighteen of the sixty-five entries are from outside the city. Chicago sends a delegation of ten, who will arrive Saturday morning in a special car. Kansas City sends three; Belleville, two; Minneapolis, Litchfield and Indianapolis, one each. Among the Chicago fast men are Lumsden, Barrett and Munger, all of whom have ridden here before. Carl Ellers, the winner of last year's race under the old Missouri Bicycle Club colors, now riding under the blue and white of the Pastimes, is looked upon as a probable winner. Tidd, who made such a good showing last year until an accident befell his wheel is favorably thought of. The St. Louis Cycling Club will pin their faith to Harding, Rule, Cox and Laing, all old time riders. A number of new men will make their first appearance, the most promising of the lot of youngsters being Horace Rumsey of the Pastimes. It is noticeable that six St. Louis clubs are represented. The Carondelets, the North St. Louis Bicycle Club and the Y. M. C. A. Club are all less than three months old, and each has an entry. The officers of the day are: Referee, Douglas W. Robert; judges, C. C. Hildebrand, W. F. Saunders and R. L. Hill; scorers, W. H. Henschen, W. P. Grath and Geo. M. Wilder; starter, Percy Stone; timers, A. C. Davis and assistants; clerk, A. J. Emery, and thirty umpires.

The following are the handicaps as announced by Messrs. Emery and Rosborough, the official handicappers: Scratch—Bert Harding, W. J. Cox, G. K. Barrett, Frank Waller, L. D. Munger, T. S. Dickinson, A. E. Lumsden, H. A. Githens. One minute—C. P. Root, J. P. Bliss, R. Keator, F. A. Padgett, Kindervatter. Two minutes—B. C. Howard, H. H. Wylie, E. P. Roll. Two and one-half minutes—O. L. ### GERMANY IS AGHAST.

Falling Prices in America Attributed to the Silver Question.

BERLIN, May 19.—The firm of which the late Baron Bleischroeder, the famous financier and friend of Prince Bismarck, was the chief, and which still holds a leading place in German finance, states in an interview that Germany is aghast at the falling prices in America. It was expected that an increase of business and a consequent rise of prices would follow the opening of the Chicago World's Fair. The only apparent reason, the firm states, for the bad condition of affairs in America is the unsettled condition of the silver question and the absence of an American State bank similar to that of Germany. Both Germany and England would be glad to have the silver question settled by the Brussels monetary conference or in any other way. Germany, however, will not adopt bi-metallism. Germany owes its influential position to a sound gold policy. The key to the present position lies in London. It was added in the expression of opinion by the Bleischroeder firm that they did not regard the proposed intervention of the Bank of England in aid of Australian banks with favor and thought this expedient would result more unfavorably than in the case of the Barings.

Stopped the Clocks.

Either through the negligence of the operator of the motor clock of the Western Union telegraph office, or the falling of a live electric wire at 10 o'clock last night on the Western Union wires, all the electric clocks in the city, numbering some 900 stopped at 10 o'clock. After an examination had been made this morning, it was ascertained that one of the relays had been burned out. A new one replaced it this afternoon and a force of men are engaged in setting the clocks, which will be in working order once more by 6 o'clock.

FELL THIRTY-FIVE FEET.—John Kattiyeaks, a laborer, living at 1507 Benton street, while repairing the roof in the rear of his home, fell a distance of 35 feet. He received several severe, but not dangerous scalp wounds, which were dressed at the City Dispensary.

Bob Goode's Threat.

Attorney Robert Goode is making strenuous efforts to secure a warrant against the principals of the movement now on foot to boycott the firm of George Diehl & Bros., at Thirteenth and Franklin avenue. This morning he applied to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Estep for a warrant for the arrest of the men who are distributing handbills calling upon all friends of organized labor to boycott the firm, and because he refused to issue the same threatened to bring the matter before the Grand Jury and if possible to have Estep indicted for malfeasance in office. It is thought that the threat was made in the heat of passion and that in all probability nothing further will be heard of the matter.

Will Fix Things in St. Louis.

A ST. LOUIS CONVERT.

Harry C. Mohr Is Wanted in Iowa on a Charge of Embezzlement.

The Christian Evangelist received a postal card yesterday which caused the editors and attaches to open their eyes in astonishment. The sender was J. D. McGarrough, Sheriff of Polk County, Io., and he asked for the arrest of Harry C. Mohr for embezzlement, alleged to have been committed in Des Moines. Mohr is described as being 5 feet high, 120 pounds in weight, gray eyes, brown hair and 18 years of age. The card says: "He is a good, rapid, constant talker, of pleasant manners and says, 'by my goodness.' He is ambitious to become an actor, plays a few musical instruments indifferently and sings a mezzo-soprano well. He used to live at Burlington, Io., and his parents reside there still."

The Sheriff offered a reward of $20 for the arrest of Mohr, but it was not this inducement which aroused an interest in Mohr among local Christian workers with whom the fugitive from Iowa justice became acquainted about two years ago. He became a regular attendant at First Christian Church at that time, and poured a sad tale into the ears of the members who were delighted because he had become converted. He was a poor, ill-fed, badly clothed young man, employed in a restaurant and obliged to sleep in the cellar. He was ignorant, but burning with a desire for learning, and would do anything to get an education. A very benevolent lady named Mrs. Bleybell was touched by his troubles and as the church was about to send a young Chinese lad to Blake University at Des Moines, Io., she decided to help young Mohr towards a course there. The other members of First Church contributed liberally and Mohr's restaurant garments were exchanged for a gentleman's outfit. Mohr was sent to Blake University and evidently learned rapidly, for Sheriff McGarrough is very anxious to apprehend him for embezzlement.

THE TRUTH AT LAST

Wm. Pinckney Confesses That He Killed Francis M. Bowie.

DAN BARBER HAD NO SHARE IN THE AWFUL CRIME.

How the Detectives Located the Criminal—Mrs. Shann Indicted for Poisoning Her Son—Killed His Daughter's Lover—An Old Man Deserts Wife and Children and Gets His Deserts.

MARLBRO, Md., May 19.—William Pinckney, who, with Dan Barber, was convicted of the murder of Francis M. Bowie and sentenced to be hanged on June 30, has confessed that he alone killed Mr. Bowie, and that Barber was not present at the time. This exculpation will probably save Barber's neck from the hangman's noose. Pinckney's assertion that there were others who knew all about the killing of Bowie is being investigated.

Bowie was a wealthy farmer living near Maribro. He went to town, and failing to return in the evening, his wife sent to the barn to inquire for him. There his horse was found, the saddle hanging to the animal's side. The horse was hot and had apparently arrived after a hard gallop. Men were sent back over the road to find Bowie, but they only found at a point on the road evidences of a struggle. The next day a track was found leading away from this spot that had been made by dragging a heavy body along the ground. The track led to a well and at the bottom of the well Bowie's body was found.

Detectives worked on the wife of a negro with whom Bowie had had trouble and on Good Friday, representing to the woman that eternal damnation would be her portion if she went over the holy day with the guilty secret unspoken, she confessed that her husband had attacked Bowie, overpowered him, killed him, and had thrown the body into the well. She told where the blood-stained garments of the murderer were hidden and where things taken from Bowie were secreted. Barber's connection with the crime was never demonstrated to the satisfaction of right thinking persons.

A KIDNAPPER KILLED.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 19.—John Wilson loved Myrtle Summers and tried to abduct and marry her. Myrtle was John's 16-year-old niece and John was a gray-haired man, the father of many children. He made love to Myrtle about a week ago and though she repulsed him she feared to inform her father. The families lived near Mulberry, a town on the Iron Mountain railroad. Mr. Summers was absent from home on Monday and Wilson took advantage of this to compel the girl to elope with him. This he accomplished by threats of personal violence. On Tuesday, when Mr. Summers returned and learned of this, he took a shot-gun and caught the fugitives fourteen miles away. He demanded that his daughter return with him, but Wilson said he could not live without her and would not give her up, whereupon Summers shot and killed him, took his daughter home and gave himself up to the proper officers. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

KILLED BY HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW.

LANCASTER, Ky., May 19.—News of a tragedy reaches here from Casey County. Logan and Letcher Brown, brothers, became involved in a difficulty and the latter was killed to death. The murder occurred at Gilbons' store, on Trace Fork. Logan Brown was drinking at the bar when his brother walked in and began firing. Logan returned the fire, using a Winchester. Letcher Brown was shot through the body twice, dying an hour later. Last week in the same county another one of the Browns was killed in a fight by his brother-in-law.

MURDERED BY HIS NEPHEW.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 19.—Elias Hoover, one of the oldest residents of Rock Falls, Dunn Co., Wis., was murdered by his nephew, Josiah S. Hoover, about 6 o'clock last evening. Bad blood had existed for a long time and they lived only 100 rods apart. Last evening the old man tried to patch matters up, but a quarrel resulted. Josiah stabbed the old man with a butcher knife through the heart, making a cut seven inches long and five inches deep and nearly cutting off one rib. Josiah went home, told his wife, changed his clothes and went away.

BOY HANGMEN.

LANCASTER, Pa., May 19.—Max Eppstein, a little boy, has mysteriously disappeared and the authorities have as yet failed to find any trace as to his whereabouts. Some weeks ago a number of his companions in play placed a noose around his neck and suspended him from a tree. When taken down he was unconscious. The child's mother believes that he has died from the effects.

A BAD MAN JAILED.

TAHLEQUAH, I. T., May 19.—Ball Christie, who a month ago murdered John Dick by cutting his throat, was run down by a sheriff's posse yesterday and jailed. He was taken by surprise and arrested before he had time to offer any resistance. He is one of the last of the "bad men" left in the Territory.

MRS. SHANN INDICTED.

TRENTON, N. J., May 19.—Mrs. Mattie Shann of Princeton, who is suspected of having poisoned her son, John Shann, to get the insurance on his life, has been indicted by the Grand Jury for murder in the first degree. Her trial will probably not take place until the next term of court in September.

KILLED BY HIS MOTHER.

LANSING, Mich., May 19.—George Hare, 9 years old, died on Monday at Okemus. His father was killed accidentally a year ago and many suspicious things have happened on the farm since. A post mortem examination was to be held at the suggestion of the attending physician. The boy disappeared about 2 o'clock yesterday morning and was afterward found in a deep well on the farm. The mother of the boy has since confessed to his murder, saying she had poisoned him to prevent his becoming a thief. She is under arrrest and believed to be insane.

HIS DAUGHTER'S LOVER KILLED HIM.

TAHLEQUAH, I. T., May 19.—Lawson Runyan, a Cherokee and an ex-member of the Legislature, was shot and instantly killed by Milo Creekmore, a white ex-Deputy Marshal, at Manard, twelve miles from here, Wednesday night. The shooting was the outcome of Runyan refusing to allow his daughter to associate with Creekmore.

CLAIMS IT IS SPITE.

MASCOUTAH, Ill., May 19.—The trial of J. M. Lane, a well-known citizen of Queen's Lake, charged with robbery, will be held to-morrow. Lane was accused of attempting a daring robbery at Cox's Ferry some time ago while disguised as a negro. At the preliminary trial Lane was unable to prove an alibi and he was committed to jail without bond. He claims that he is the victim of a woman's spite.

HANGING FOR MURDER.

LANSING, Mich., May 19.—The house yesterday by a vote of 56 to 25 passed the Kline bill, providing the penalty of death by hanging for persons convicted on direct evidence of murder in the first degree.

Danger!

If you have a feeling of oppression and uneasiness a little above the diaphragm, and just below the right ribs, aggravated by lying on the right side, look out! As sure as fate, your liver is disordered. Perhaps not seriously as yet, but fatal hepatic abscesses are not uncommon. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the precise remedy to regulate the liver, and prevent its congestion and inflammation, and to disperse such minor indicia of its derangement as yellowness of the skin and ball of the eye, furred tongue, sourness of the breath, nausea on rising in the morning, dizziness, sick headache and constipation. By relaxing the bowels painlessly, it opens a channel of exit for the superfluous bile, checks a tendency to congestion and engorgement of the liver, at the same time giving a gentle impetus to its secretive action, and affords relief to the stomach, which is usually inactive, out of order and oppressed with wind when the bowels are costive. Use the Bitters also in fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles.

EXERCISE BOYS FINED.

Fights Between the Riders of Racers at the Fair Grounds.

John Barlow, one of the colored boys employed by McCafferty & Wishard to exercise their race horses at the Fair Grounds, was fined $25 by Judge Paxson this morning for attempting "to perforate the hide," as he expressed it, of Cheno Brown, also employed at the track. Brown and Barlow had a difficulty in one of the improvised kitchens at the Fair Grounds and Barlow fired several shots at Brown. Brown swore out a warrant charging him with assault to kill, but when the case was called in the Court of Criminal Correction he refused to prosecute, the police say, because he feared the vengeance of Barlow's friends. The negro was accordingly sent to the Police Court on a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits. Officer O'Connor testified that Barlow attempted to shoot him when he placed him under arrest. Barlow is said to be a desperate character, having, it is alleged, killed a man in Memphis.

George Taylor, also an exercise boy at the Fair Grounds, was fined $5 for attempting to run Wm. Pope through with a pitchfork. The boys had a discussion concerning the relative qualities of their horses and a fight ensued in which sticks, stones and pitchforks were freely used.

Virginia's Gubernatorial Convention.

RICHMOND, Va., May 19.—At a meeting of the State Democratic Committee last night the State was well represented. Considerable discussion was had regarding the place for holding the next gubernatorial convention. It was decided to be held at Richmond on Thursday, Aug. 17. The basis of representation was decided at one delegate for every 100 voters or fraction over fifty as cast in the last presidential election. This will make a body of some 1,560 delegates. The officers to be nominated by the convention are Governor, Lieutenant Governor and an Attorney-General.

STREET ACCIDENTS.

Two Ladies Run Over by an Ambulance—Jockey Crushed by a Horse—Collision.

Mrs. Laura Green, living at 1536 Mississippi avenue, and Mrs. Laura Dummet of 2611 Park avenue, while crossing the street at Park avenue and Dillon street about 9:30 o'clock last night, were knocked down and run over by ambulance No. 8 of the Health Department, driven by William Taylor, the wheels of the vehicle passing over Mrs. Green's limbs above the knees and Mrs. Dummet's right foot, but breaking no bones.

CRUSHED BY A HORSE.

Michael Conners, 18 years old, employed by T. Hazlett at the Fair Grounds, to ride horses, while riding a horse yesterday at Margretta and Red Bud avenues, the animal fell, catching the boy under him, but not seriously injuring him.

STREET-CAR COLLISION.

William Linnemeyer and Frank Madison, living at 1800 Menard street, were driving in a buggy at Taylor and Chouteau avenues at 6 o'clock last evening when motor car No. 1 of the Lindell Railway Co. collided with the buggy, demolishing it and slightly bruising Linnemeyer.

CHORAL SYMPHONY CONCERT.

The Season Brought to a Successful Close Last Night.

The season of the Choral Symphony Society was brought to a successful close last evening by the rendition of the second part of the World's Fair Choral programme in which the society will take part. Selections were given from "Judas Maccabæus," the Requiem and Kyrie from Berlioz' "Requiem Mass," and Gounod's "Gallia." The soloists were Mrs. Corinne Moore-Lawson and Miss Schwill of Cincinnati, Mr. Knorr of Chicago and Mr. Miles of St. Louis. Mrs. Lawson, as usual, gave general satisfaction; Miss Schwill is a careful artist with a pleasing voice, but does not class above any of the best local contraltos. Mr. Knorr's tenor is a misfit. He might have made a good baritone, but his voice was worn thin and just escaped cracking in trying to make a tenor of it. He was not on the best terms with the orchestra during his arias. Mr. Miles on his first appearance as an oratorio singer made a very favorable impression. He showed surprising smoothness and breadth of tone and splendid surety. The chorus work in the Handel selection was of a very high order. The attacks were sharp and sure and the shading excellent. The Berlioz selection was not so pleasing, as the tenors, who had rather outdone themselves in the opening numbers, were not equal to the demand of the score. The beautiful orchestration was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Lawson and the chorus divided the honors in the rendition of Gounod's plaintive cantata.

Not After Man and Money.

Mrs. Grace N. Walker, who ran a dressmaking establishment at 1934 Olive street, was in Cincinnati last Wednesday stating that she was looking for Joseph Rider. Finding that he had left there she returned to St. Louis, and, after stopping one night at her son's house on Cottage avenue, she went to Assumption, Ill. It was alleged that she was hunting up Hiram J. Rider, who formerly ran a cigar store at 1726 Olive street, and who, it was averred, ran away from the widow, taking about $10,000 of her money.

Mrs. Walker's son, named Shoemaker, by a former husband, who lives at 4627 Cottage avenue, denies the story and says there is nothing in it.

KNIGHTS ELECTED.—Knights of the Maccabees, K. O. T. M., Krayer Tent, lately instituted at Woesten's Hall, corner St. Louis and Grand avenues, elected twelve candidates at its review, nine of whom were present and initiated into the order as Knights. The newly elected officers were installed by Deputy Superintendent Commander E. B. Anderson, assisted by Deputy Supreme Commander S. H. McMasters. The Sir Knights partook of an excellent lunch furnished by Sir Knight Krayer. The members of the tent are preparing for an entertainment at the Grand Opera-house, June 6. "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be presented by the Lyceum Stock company of this city, under the direction of Sir Knight Charles G. Grant and George Hugh.

You must do something. In the earlier stages of Consumption, and in all the conditions that lead to it, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a certain remedy. This scrofulous affection of the lungs, like every other form of Scrofula, can be cured by it. In severe, lingering Coughs, all Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections, and every disease that can be reached through the blood, it is the only medicine so effective that it can be guaranteed. ### AMUSEMENTS TO-NIGHT.

OLYMPIC—"The Charity Ball."

MATINEES TO-MORROW.
OLYMPIC—"The Charity Ball."
POPE'S—"The Inside Track."

Weather forecast until 8 o'clock Saturday evening: For Missouri—Fair, winds becoming northwesterly; colder.

A very severe storm is central in North Dakota. The barometer at Bismarck is bu 28.90 inches this morning. In the rear of this storm rains and colder weather prevail. It is much warmer in the Central Mississippi Valley and colder in the Rocky Mountain Region and the extreme Southwest. The weather is fair throughout the East and South and no marked changes in those sections.

St. Louis forecast: Local showers and thunderstorms to-night or Saturday; colder Saturday afternoon.

CONTRIBUTIONS of money and work in behalf of the anti-smoke movement are paying investments.

JONESY's down and the Old Pretender is making the best of the opportunity to show how hard it can hit.

WHEN Mr. Olney reads in the telegrams that "the Plate Glass Trust is now an assured fact," will he begin to throw stones?

POVERTY is usually an unfortunate condition, but if it postpones deportation of the Chinese it may be a blessing in disguise.

THE good men who are fighting to keep the Fair closed on Sunday are doing a great work for Buffalo Bill and the sideshows.

THE alleged assets of the National Cordage Co. are several millions in excess of its liabilities, but then the same can be said for Zimri Dwiggins.

WHERE was the eagle eye of the Bank Examiner who did the examining for the two Georgia national banks that for two years past have "virtually done no business?"

THE Mayor will probably shift his responsibility for the Health Department on the Councilmen to-night. What will they do with it? Will they give the city a Commissioner of undoubted fitness?

IT appears that President Lincoln's pew in Washington is the same that was occupied by President Buchanan. This is very exasperating to some patriots. Buchanan's hesitancy about plunging into a great civil war has always been condemned.

THE Administration seems determined to limit legislators to legislative functions. This is hard on the Congressmen who never thought of public questions and who depend upon their brokerage business for a political living, but the voters will not kick.

THE German Emperor is still bent on putting through his army bill no matter what the decision of the people may be. He has pitted himself against democracy, and may meet the fate of several other royal blunderers who have lost their jobs since Louis XVI. lost his job and his head at the same time.

THE Attorney-General has at last brought an action at law against the Whisky Trust by way of quo warranto proceedings to compel it to show cause why it should not be dissolved. N. B.—The Attorney-General is Mr. Moloney of Illinois, not Mr. Olney of Boston.

THE Provisional Government of Hawaii, although it claims existence as the outcome of a popular uprising against tyranny and misgovernment, cannot maintain itself without suppressing free speech and the free press. A Democracy cannot consistently aid and abet a military despotism.

IT is not enough for the Hawaiian annexationists to say that they own 95 per cent of the wealth of the islands. They have established a plutocracy which should not be supported by a democracy. The first concern of this country should be the rights of men rather than the rights of property. That was settled when we abolished slavery.

NOSES have suffered more from the discomfort and danger arising from the smoke cloud than the women of the city. They are called upon to enlist for the anti-smoke campaign and can do valuable work. Not the least valuable would be the exercise of their influence to get their fathers, brothers and husbands to join the Smoke Abatement Association.

DOES the selection of Denver as the next meeting place of the Republican Leagues indicate a leaning in the direction of free silver? Probably it does with a difference, Mr. Clarkson's idea being that a party should be for gold in gold States, silver in silver States, greenbacks in greenback States and for the offices everywhere. Mr. Gould's famous saying suggests a practical political programme.

THE anxiety of Congressmen about the distribution of patronage springs from the knowledge that a higher order of intelligence is needed in a legislator than in an office broker. Many of them lack this intelligence and therefore want to hold on to the only support which keeps them in public life. But it is noticeable that those who have made a mark in Congress are glad to get rid of their troublesome constituents.

ATTACKING TRUST VILLAINY.

That the WORLD proposes to continue with increased vigor the unflinching fight upon wrong and rascality which in the first ten years of its revived existence has made it the idolized paper of the people, is shown by its bold attack upon the rich and respectable Trust swindlers who have robbed the people through the Reading, the Cordage and the Whisky trusts.

In the article arraigning the manipulators of industrial stocks, which we reprint to-day, the WORLD does not mince words, avoid issues or shrink from incurring the enmity of powerful interests. It tells the whole truth about the infamous and criminal trust scheme by which on the one hand the consumer is gouged and the investor is robbed. It clearly shows that the swindles perpetrated through the inflation and manipulation of the stocks of the Coal Combine, the Cordage Trust, the Whisky Trust and other trust conspiracies are deliberate and points out that the villainy involved in their accomplishment is the blacker because it is fathered and nurtured by men whose high standing in financial circles, in society and often in the church helps them to play such confidence games on the public.

The WORLD indicts, convicts and condemns for deliberate swindling the men who form these trusts, inflate the stocks, bolster them up by false dividends and profit by the deception of the people. It indicts, convicts and condemns the bankers who, knowing them to be fraudulent, indorse and negotiate these stocks. It indicts, convicts and condemns the New York Stock Exchange itself for deliberately aiding a known swindle by listing these stocks and thus deceiving the public by giving them their indorsement as good stocks.

The justice of these indictments of villainies committed under cover of honesty and respectability must be recognized, and in declaring that it is a disgrace to civilization that the riches and influence of the swindlers keep them out of jail and shield them from all punishment the WORLD indicts the authorities for cowardice and failure to do their duty. But justice is assured of ultimate vindication by the action of the WORLD. Its fight is for moral principle in business and moral courage in the enforcement of laws. No authority, however submissive to influence, can resist, and no rascality, however strongly intrenched in wealth and power, can withstand a fight of this kind by a fearless newspaper. Trust scoundrelism is in danger.

THE MEASURE OF POPULARITY.

It is noticeable that the opposition to an income tax comes from Republican newspapers and those known to be under plutocratic influences. By such organs it is denounced as unjust and inexpedient. It is maintained that the tax was unpopular during the war and will be equally so if reimposed.

No doubt it was unpopular among those who had the largest incomes, but only 250,000 out of a population of 30,000,000 paid an income tax and those who had the largest incomes disliked an impost which made them pay for the good government they enjoyed. The larger the income the more unpopular was the tax. But there is no account of grumbling among people of small means, that is the 29,750,000 who were not fortunate enough to possess taxable incomes.

This sufficiently exposes the hypocrisy of those who oppose the tax on the ground of unpopularity. It is not likely that the number of incomes larger than $10,000 is greater in proportion to population now, because the concentration of wealth in a few hands has kept down the number. And it is certain the rest of the population will not seriously oppose the imposition of a tax which relieved them of that much of the burden now put upon them by means of the trick known as indirect taxation. A law thus approved by twenty-nine-thirtieths of the population cannot be said to be unpopular.

The truth is that at this time no measure of taxation would be received with more favor than this. The enormous incomes now drawn from privileges granted by the general Government, States and municipalities, are, many of them, pure gratuities. They measure the taxing power possessed by private individuals performing public service. Incomes so derived are the largest, and are really hurtful to the community because they represent so much abstracted from the common wealth without equivalent. That they should be made to pay a large portion of the expenses of Government is a dictate of common sense and common justice.

SOCIAL WHITE-CAPPISM.

The female factory employes of Bridgeport, Conn., offer a fallow field for the particular application of some of the energy now being expended in the general uplifting of their sex. These females are keeping the country in a continual state of emotional excitement through their efforts to regulate the conduct and bearing of their associates. They have an uncompromising hostility to "stuck-uppishness" and "stuck-uppishness" in their view appears to be any departure on the moral, social or intellectual side from the conventional rule of conduct established by custom in their little circle.

In enforcing these rules the "girls" are the sole judges of the offense and are conscienceless in the invention and application of penalties. One victim was rolled in a barrel and is now suffering from nervous prostration and physical injuries, and another was frightened into insanity by a companion who chased her with a toy snake in her hands.

But while these "girls" violate a sacred principle of individual rights in attempting to regulate personal conduct by private violence are they much worse than their more cultured and refined sisters in higher planes of society? Except in the matter of methods is there any difference in the white-cappism of these ignorant creatures and the white-cappism of high society? Society insists that men and women conform to conventional customs as sternly as this circle of factory girls. Society's regulators do not, to be sure, bruise the body and wreck reason, but they wound the feelings and ruin reputations. They are as unreasonable in forming and applying their standard and as relentless in enforcing it as factory circle regulators.

In teaching the female factory employes the principles of justice and charity which should prevail in judging of the conduct of others, more highly favored people should not forget to take the lesson to themselves and apply it to society in general.

TOO MUCH confidence should not be placed in the intimation from the Chinese Minister that his Government will not retaliate upon American citizens now dwelling in the Flowery Kingdom. His Government has been cautious and conciliatory, long-suffering and humble, but only because the statesmen in control of the empire have been sensible of their weakness and inability to cope with western civilization. But in this case the Ministers may not be able to control the popular indignation. The whole people may be roused to resentment, and the Chinese are not very poor spirited in their own land. The Government may be compelled to take active retaliatory measures in order to save the Americans from mobs such as we get up now and then, when we stone and stab helpless Chinamen. And it is doubtful if even such measures would save the missionaries and traders from celestial wrath. The Government could not send them home fast enough to escape, nor is it likely that the available troops could stand against mobs in isolated localities. In short, if the Americans are determined to have fun with the Chinese, the Chinese can easily get even by having fun with the Americans.

IN the Women's Congress there is much talk of the bloomer and the divided skirt. It is likely to amount to just nothing at all. If it were possible to make the bloomer and divided skirt the fashion, there would for a while be no trouble. There is no fashion in dress of which woman is not capable, but it must really be the fashion. Its utility or its folly have nothing whatever to do with its adoption. Woman is not a reformer, nor will she even consider her health. Making the bloomer fashionable, however, would give it no permanence. In a very short time it would be succeeded by some other fashion. There is really no hope for woman in the matter of dress reform.

SAYS Susan B. Anthony: "We want to show womanhood first; we want to show how wifehood and motherhood are accidental thereto; we want to show that not every woman is designed and ordained for housekeeping; we want to show that women should be directed toward or permitted to choose the life work for which she is designed." Miss Anthony can certainly see that great progress has been made in these lines. Hardly any woman now wants to do anything in her kitchen. Even the feminine help is drifting to factories and stores, and kitchen service must eventually become masculine.

IT appears that there are members of the Salvation Army who not only make counterfeit money, but buy drinks with it, seemingly forgetting that wine is a mocker. Unless they are trying to break up the saloons by impoverishing them, their conduct as Christians militant is not easy to comprehend.

SAFE robbers at Leavenworth are doing their work "under the glare of electric lights." The reason of this may be that the policeman does not glare simultaneously with the light. Even a private watchman sometimes goes to sleep with a blaze of electricity all around him.

THE Courier-Journal does not understand why a Chicago court fined a man $10 for kissing a girl, while a New York court fined a man only $5 for kissing six girls. It is no problem. The first man was a Fair visitor and the court gave him concessionaire rates.

MILLIONAIRE MACKAY will spend a fortnight at the Fair. It would seem that so rich a man as Mr. Mackay might indulge himself for a longer space than two weeks, but even unlimited wealth becomes timorous in the presence of the Columbian concessionaire.

THE Rev. Dr. Craig of Chicago has been made Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. The Doctor finds it much easier to moderate the assembly than to moderate Chicago.

POSSIBLY the gold that has been flowing out of the country is only the "British gold" which the protection journals last year asserted was flooding us and imperiling our infant industries.

New York City's Disgrace.

From the New York WORLD.

Do the respectable money-bags who float industrial stocks recognize any such thing as a moral obligation?

Is truth-telling ever at par in Wall street? Is plausible lying always at a premium?

The men who set up the cordage trust—like their fellows of the whisky trust and the Reading combination—were men of honorable repute in business. They pledged their good names for the truth of the representation by which they induced the public to buy their swindling stock issues.

The highly respectable bankers who "placed" cordage preferred stock made themselves sponsors for the truth of the statements on which the cordage stocks were listed on the Stock Exchange. They lent for hire their honorable names to a deception which has reduced many innocent persons to poverty and caused a shrinkage estimated at $500,000,000 in the value of other people's property.

The Stock Exchange itself, by admitting cordage to the list, certified to its own members and to the public that the company was on a sound basis. For the Exchange permits dealings in two classes of securities, the listed and the unlisted, the distinction being avowedly intended to discriminate to the public between stocks whose substantial value the Exchange has verified and stocks concerning which the buyer must look out for himself. In listing the cordage stocks first to the amount of $15,000,000, and later to the amount of $25,000,000, the Exchange gave notice to the public that it had duly inquired and satisfied itself that the property of the company was worth that sum, and had an earning capacity sufficient to pay the promised dividends.

On the strength of these pledges of faith by the rich and reputable organizers of the combination, by the great banking-houses that "placed" the stock and by the exchange that listed it as a sound security, innocent persons were deceived into buying the issues of the company, only to find themselves robbed of their substance for the enrichment of the already wealthy men who "set up the game" and their companions in speculation.

No bunco steerer could have perpetrated a meaner swindle. No robbery could be more shameful than that accomplished by the men who "worked off" this stock at prices ranging from 75 to 147 and are now buying it back at 11 or less.

For the men who made and the men who indorsed these misrepresentations in aid of the fraud knew them to be false when they put them forth as a lure to the unsuspecting. Their falsity was so apparent to the well-informed that the banks from the first have fought shy of the cordage, whisky and Reading stocks as collateral, and conservative brokers have resolutely refused even to buy and sell them even for their customers on a margin. One very large firm reports that it has never held a hundred of these shares all told, and that for the few it has held it took pains to secure itself adequately.

What such banks and brokers' firms knew of the rottenness of these bubble companies must have been still better known to the "reputable" business men and bankers who aided in the perpetration of the frauds.

In the case of cordage, for example, these men solemnly assured the public that the company had "$12,000,000 and upward" of assets besides the $5,000,000 of money realized from the preferred stock, or more than $17,000,000 in all. Yet all that the most sanguine among them now profess to hope for is that the receiver will find enough assets somewhere to cover the preferred stock, leaving the victims of the swindle to bear the loss represented by the $20,000,000 of common stock and the $6,000,000 of other obligation assumed by the company.

The entire transaction has been a fraud intolerable for any honest mind to contemplate. It is a disgrace to civilization, a burning shame to the community in which it has been perpetrated, a lasting reflection upon the Stock Exchange, which has permitted and in a degree facilitated the robbery.

We hear much of the corruptions of Tammany, of dishonor in politics and public life, and these things are bad enough, surely. Yet the men who corrupt our politics and betray their trusts in public life are honorable and respectable in comparison with those who have engineered these three great swindles, the Cordage Trust, the Whisky Trust and the Coal conspiracy. The peculators in politics are petty pilferers from public treasuries; these men are deliberate robbers of the people, including in many cases the widow and the orphan. Their frauds are hurtful to all interests, disturbing and disastrous to all business. They attack the very foundations of prosperity and threaten and injure all the people in very grievous ways.

The frauds perpetrated in organizing these conspiracies have been followed up by other frauds. Dividends wholly unearned have been paid with borrowed money in order that a fictitious appearance of prosperity might enable the manipulators to perpetrate further swindles in stock-jobbing. The manipulators have voted and paid themselves salaries of $25,000 and $50,000 a year for doing nothing, and have contracted debts for the company in order to pay these unearned wages. The men "inside" have at times robbed their own associates and their victims, the innocent purchasers of stock, by forestalling the market for the raw materials needed by their trusts, thus depriving them of their only chance of earning the dividends they had promised to pay. In the Cordage case the collapse was brought about by an imprudent attempt to float another block of $2,500,000 of preferred stock at a time when the men who did it were "shinning" for money with which to pay dividends on the stock already out, of a company that was earning no dividends at all and the substantial bankruptcy of which they perfectly well knew.

The men who have organized and worked these conspiracies of fraud ought to be in jail. Instead they are honored members of society, of the exchanges and often of the churches. It is the shame of our country that this is so. It is the disgrace of our community that riches, even though they be the proceeds of plunder, are permitted thus to cover all shames and atone for all sins. It is a blight upon our civilization that the shrewd criminal in good clothes goes to the club, while the dull-witted criminal in slop-shop garments goes to prison.

We need a reformation in nothing else so much as in our standards of business morality!

Presbyterian Young People's Societies Petition the World's Fair Directors.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE FIRST DAYS OF THE NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Nominations for Officers Submitted—Baptist Conventions—Woman's Missionary Society—Pastoral Receptions—Christian Endeavor News—General Religious Notes.

The fifth annual institute of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, in progress at First Church, Nineteenth and Morgan streets, took a decided action on the World's Fair Sunday opening question to-day. At 11 o'clock Mr. J. McK. Cleland, an attorney of Chicago and a delegate to the institute, submitted the following resolution, which was adopted by a rising vote:

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 19.

To the Hon. Thos. W. Palmer, President Columbian National Union, Chicago, Ill.:

The National Convention of our Young People's Christian Union, now in session, representing twenty-five States and Territories, enter an emphatic protest against any change in the rules closing the Exposition on the Sabbath day, and urge you to take all proper means to prevent the threatened opening of the gates by the local directory next Sabbath.

EDWARD E. ELLIOTT,
President.

Mr. Cleland said that he had an assurance that the National Commission would close the Exposition next Sunday if they had to call out the Federal troops to do it. He said also that legal proceedings would be instituted in the Chicago courts to-morrow to forestall the schemes of the local directory to open the Fair. The resolution was sent at once to President Palmer by wire.

The auditorium of the church was crowded with the ladies and gentlemen who are delegates to the institute and the gallery was well filled with spectators when the institute was called to order this morning. Delegates were present from every part of the country, from Philadelphia to California, to the number of 500 or 600. The opening song service was directed by Prof. W. T. Wiley, of Monmouth, Ill., and the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. M. G. Kyle of Philadelphia, General Secretary of the Institute.

NOMINATIONS FOR OFFICERS.

The general committee submitted the following nominations for officers; for President, E. E. Elliott, Morning Sun, O.; for Secretary, Miss Kate H. Marion, Allegheny, Pa.; for Treasurer, W. J. Stewart, of Pittsburg, Pa.; for Press Secretary, Hugh R. Moffet, editor of the Daily Review, Monmouth, Ill. The nominees were elected by a rising vote. General Secretary Kyle presented to the President a gavel stone, made of a cross section of an olive tree, hewn in Jerusalem. Rev. Dr. W. W. Barr of Philadelphia last year gave the institute a gavel of Olive wood brought from the Holy Land, and General Secretary Kyle's gift today supplemented Dr. Barr's present. At 9:30 o'clock Prof. Wilfred W. White of the Xenia (O.) Seminary began a Bible study, which lasted until 10:15 o'clock. An experience meeting followed, under the direction of Mr. R. L. Latimer. Two-minute talks were the programme and the delegates told briefly what they had done in their unions. S. S. Finley, a Chicago delegate, said that his union had worked up a strong sentiment in favor of the enforcement of the Illinois Sunday saloon closing law and that next week a petition with half a million signatures will be presented to Mayor Carter Harrison beseeching him to assert the dignity of the law. Each church represented in the institute had some novel feature, or notable improvement in church work to report.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

The General Committee made a report containing a series of recommendations. The institute took a recess at noon for lunch.

Work was resumed at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and after a prayer and praise service there was a symposium on the topic, "What the United Presbyterian Church Believes as to Psalmody, Secretism and Communion." Rev. James D. Rankin of Denver, Colo., will deliver a missionary address this evening. The institute will continue to-morrow and close Sunday with religious exercises.

The General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church meets at Monmouth, Ill., next Wednesday.

The institute was opened last evening with prayer by President Campbell White. Mayor Walbridge welcomed the delegates in behalf of the city and W. M. McClain did a like office for the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

Christian Endeavor Notes.

The members of the St. Louis Christian Endeavor Union are preparing for their annual summer outing on the river, which comes off this year on June 10, on the steamer Grand Republic. The Endeavorers of the city have made the occasion a red letter event in their calendar for the past three years and they intend to excel themselves this year. Mr. L. F. Lindsay will have charge of the chorus singing, and the general programme will be in the hands of Mr. Barclay Meador, assisted by Messrs. E. M. Peabody, Edward Altemus, S. P. Craft, J. D. Ripley, and C. A. Forse. Mr. Edgar McClelland is Chairman of the Reception Committee.

The Central Division of the Christian Endeavor Union meets to-night at First Christian Church, Locust street near Compton avenue. L. F. Lindsay will conduct the song service and Rev. J. L. ### Christian Church Enterprises.

The convention of the St. Louis and Suburban Districts of the Christian Church, which closed at De Soto, Wednesday, marks an epoch in the career of the local Christian churches. The churches in the district which comprises St. Louis, city and county, Franklin, Jefferson and Washington Counties were bound more closely together with a view to concerted action. The delegates decided to maintain a permanent missionary in each of the counties and the preachers of St. Louis volunteered to offer their services for short periods for evangelistic work in each of the counties. In consequence of this arrangement, Rev. W. W. Hopkins will go to Union, Mo., to conduct a two weeks' revival next Monday.

The society is awake to the needs of Church Extension, in the city, and propose to erect very shortly, a handsome Methodist Church, on Maple and Belt avenues, to be known as the Maple Avenue M. E. Church.

Rev. Robert I. Fleming, the young pastor of the Lindell Avenue M. E. Church is at Hotel Beers for the present. He is extremely popular with the members of his church and has been the recipient of many social favors on the part of his congregation since his arrival in the city some two months since.

Rev. N. Boynton D. D., of Boston, who was recently called to the pastorate of Pilgrim Congregational Church, St. Louis, is expected to arrive here Saturday morning for the purpose of looking over the field before deciding whether to accept the call. He will preach in Pilgrim Church pulpit on Sundays May 21 and 28. Dr. Boynton stands in the very front rank of the Boston Congregational preachers.

At the Church of the Trinity, corner of Armstrong and Park avenues, Sunday morning, Mr. Thomas Dimmock will discourse upon "Spinoza."

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Dr. Briggs Makes an Address on the Necessity of Supporting Central College.

The session of the First District Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Marvin Church, opened at 9:30 this morning, with Presiding Elder M. R. Mays in the chair. Religious services were conducted by Rev. B. Carradine. The Committee on Conference Records received instructions and the Committee of Sabbath Observance reported through its Chairman, Rev. B. Carradine.

Rev. P. H. Roberts reported from the Committee on Epworth League.

A resolution prevailed to have the amount of $600 apportioned among the several charges to defray the expenses of the annual camp-meeting at Camp Marvin. Considerable discussion on the advisability of continuing the camp-meeting and whether its results were commensurate with the efforts put forth followed, but the motion received a large majority of the conference votes.

Dr. Briggs addressed the conference on the necessity of supporting Central College. He deprecated secular education as not fitting young men for the kingdom of God. He cited the efforts put forth by other churches in the line of religious education and told of many persons who, from attending Catholic schools, imbibed Catholic ideas and joined that church. He thought the Methodists of this conference should assist in endowing Central College so that the hundreds of young men who wished to attend it might do so.

In the afternoon session the Committees on Temperance, Conference Records, Sunday-schools and Missions, and Finance made their reports. An enlarged attendance marked this second day of the conference.

FEDERAL COURT NEWS.

The Loss of Evidence by the Government Prevents a Trial.

In the United States District Court to-day the case of Louis Menneke, charged with selling oleomargarine without the Government stamp was brought to trial. The defendant's attorney stated in his opening address to the jury that if unstamped oleomargarine had been sold from the Mennekes' store it had been without his knowledge and against his express orders. H. W. Wheelock, formerly in the employ of the Internal Revenue Department was placed upon the stand and testified to having purchased oleomargarine from the defendant. But when he attempted to testify that it was inclosed in unstamped packages he was stopped by an objection from Col. D. P. Dyer, who demanded that the packages be produced. District Attorney Reynolds explained that the packages had been placed in a cold storage ware-house for safe keeping and had been thrown away by an employe. Judge Hallett ruled that no other evidence could be offered to prove that the packages were unstamped, and on his instructions the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Judge Hallett will leave for Denver on Tuesday night. He will not return until September.

Broke His Back.

John Rouschler, a brickmason, while working on the second story of a dwelling-house on the corner of St. Vincent and Todd avenues, at 11:30 o'clock this morning, lost his balance and fell to the ground, breaking his back. Before he could be conveyed to the City Hospital he died. As no one was aware of his place of residence, the body was taken to the Morgue.

Among the Brokers.

There was no trading in mining stocks today, and few changes in quotations were made. Granite Mountain was $5.80 bid, with offers at $5.90. Elizabeth could have been bought at $5, and sold at $5. American and Nettie was 40 bid. Leo was offered at 75.

The bank clearings aggregated $3,651,032, balances $406,032.

STILL A PROBLEM.

Sunday Opening at the World's Fair Not Yet Settled.

SURFACE INDICATIONS THAT THE GATES WILL BE SHUT THIS SABBATH.

Baptists Withdraw From the Religious Congress on Account of the Local Directory's Action—Women Fill the Convention Halls to Overflowing—Topics Discussed in the Various Divisions of the Unique Convention.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUNDS, CHICAGO, Ill., May 19.—The prospects are not bright for the opening of the Exposition next Sunday as provided for by resolution of the local directory. The disposition of the directors is to obtain the approval of the National Commission as to opening the gates, on account of the law which explicitly sets forth that no new rule adopted by the directory or any proposed change in the old rule can become operative until such rule has been approved by the commission. This Sunday opening comes as a new rule or a change in the one adopted jointly by the commission and directory last October, so that the concurrence of the former body is necessary before the gates can be legally opened Sunday.

The unanimous adoption by the commission, yesterday, of the Judiciary Committee's report, which knocked Attorney Edwin Walker's limited-Sunday-opening opinion into a cocked hat, gives the national body nothing to act on to-day in regard to Sunday opening.

No communication has been received from the directory officially notifying the commission of the sweeping Sunday-opening resolution and the intention to return the money voted by Congress.

No initiatory action can be taken by the commission for or against Sunday opening. It is something with which that body has nothing whatever to do unless by way of approving, modifying or rejecting action on the matter by the local directory. There are only two more sessions of the Commission before Sunday comes again, and if there is to be a secret session with the chiefs of departments little opportunity is left for any decisive action to be taken. The surface indications among the Exposition officials to-day lead to the impression that the gates of the Fair will be closed next Sunday.

LEIF ERICKSON'S SHIP.

LONDON, May 19.—The Viking ship, which sailed from Bergen, Norway, on May 1, on its way to be exhibited at the World's Fair at Chicago as a model of the ships in which the Norsemen are supposed to have discovered America, passed Fair Island, the most northerly of the Orkney group, on the 11th inst. Advices from Bergen state that vessels arriving there report heavy southwest winds and high seas as prevailing on the North Atlantic. Steamers which ordinarily averaged ten knots an hour worked for forty-eight hours without making any progress, and it is believed that the tempestuous weather has driven the Viking back in the direction of Norway.

BAPTISTS WITHDRAW.

CHICAGO, May 19.—Revs. Lawrence, Henson and Parker, the committee of the Baptist Auxiliary of the Religious Congress of the World's Fair have withdrawn the acceptance of the invitation of the Baptist denomination to participate in the congress. The committee's action is taken in view of the determination of the directory to throw open the gates of the World's Fair Sunday. The committee believes that the Baptist annual meeting to be held next week will approve the withdrawal.

THE WOMAN CONGRESS.

Topics Discussed in the Various Divisions To-Day.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 19.—There was the usual crush at the doors of the Art Palace this morning, and many of the halls were so overcrowded even in advance of the commencement of the proceedings that it was found necessary to close the doors. The convention in the Hall of Washington was given up to a consideration of women in the trades and professions. Mrs. M. Louise Thomas presided. Universal peace between nations occupied the attention of the assemblage in the Hall of Columbus during the morning session. Minnie D. Lewis presided. Rev. Amanda Deyo of Pennsylvania read a paper upon "Woman's War for Peace."

Religious matters in general were discussed at the convention in Hall No. 6.

Rev. Ida C. Hulton of Moline presided over and delivered the address of welcome and the opening of combined Congress of the National Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women, the Women's Western Unitarian Conference and the Women's Unitarian Conference of the Pacific Coast. Mrs. B. Ward Dix of Brooklyn responded to the address of welcome, and addresses were made by Mrs. E. B. Eastman of San Francisco and several others.

In the Congress of the Non-partisan National Woman's Christian Temperance Union the principal addresses were delivered by Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, Mrs. Florence E. Porter of Maine and Mrs. Davidson of Ohio.

The department of National Woman's Relief Society was presided over by Mme. Zina D. H. Young. Half a dozen papers were presented on subjects varying from the "Pioneer Women of Utah" to "Amusements"—the last by Emily Dyas.

Mrs. Letitia Green Stevenson, wife of Vice-President Stevenson, presided over the Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Papers on a number of patriotic subjects were read.

The International Council of Woman held an executive session which occupied the entire morning.

A WANDERER NOW.

A Former Business Man Arraigned in Judge Paxson's Court for Trespassing.

Wm. Segrim, a man with every indication of refinement, but poorly, though neatly, clad, was arranged before Judge Paxson on a charge of trespass. Last night he was found by an officer asleep in an out-house in the rear of 3137 Lucas avenue, which is at present for rent. Segrim said that he came to St. Louis two years ago and started a coal yard on Chouteau avenue. The venture, like all his others, he said, was unsuccessful and he lost everything he had. Yesterday while searching for employment in the West End he became fatigued and, having no other place to go, went to the above place. He was discharged.

Jerry Thomas and Marshall Carter, two negro roustabouts, were each fined $5 for attempting to make mince-meat of Lucy Nelson, a dusky denizen of the Eighth street yard. The men visited Lucy yesterday afternoon and when she repulsed their familiarity they both drew knives and chased her through a window out of the house.

Lucy Ellis, colored, who is employed in Minnie Wilson's immoral resort, was fined $10 for being a depraved character. Officers Langan and Hagemeyer testified to having arrested her at Twelfth and Morgan streets about 2 o'clock this morning. The woman claimed that she was on her way home from work, and alleged that the officers had a grudge against her because when she had promised to buy a ticket for the Police Relief Fund benefit from them and then purchased one of Officer Quinlivan, whom she designated as "Big Australia."

Nation's Birthday Association.

On to-morrow afternoon at 12:30 o'clock the Nation's Birthday Association will hold a meeting at the Merchants' Exchange, when committees will be appointed to make preparations for the observance of the Fourth of July. All citizens who are interested in the observance of the occasion are requested to be present.

MONEY IS NEEDED.

The Smoke Ordinance Cannot Be Enforced Without a Fund.

ABOUT ONE-THIRD THE NUMBER OF NAMES REQUIRED REPORTED.

Reasons Why Dilatory Collectors Should Get a Quick Move on Them—The List of Subscribers Obtained Yesterday—Jewelers and Hardware Men Are Doing Well.

The barometer rose distinctly in the Executive Committee of the Smoke Abatement Association yesterday, and promises of support received by this morning's mail caused still further rejoicing. It is generally agreed that e[illegible] time was scarcely given to the com[illegible] to get to work, and the real, hard work of the association committees has only just commenced. The only difficulty that is now encountered is the ascertaining of the fact whether committees are actually at work or not. There have been less than half a dozen refusals to serve, but there are still a number of committees which have not been heard from. The association is being run practically without expense in the way of office and clerical help, and there is not sufficient force to make a personal canvass of all the committees. With a view to increasing the list of active workers Mr. A. D. Brown, Chairman of the Finance Committee, addressed the following letter last night to the chairmen of the committees who have not yet responded:

GETTING AFTER DILATORY COMMITTEES.

On the 13th inst. I wrote you and inclosed you a Citizens' Smoke Abatement Association subscription book, asking you to be kind enough to solicit subscribers. Since I have not heard from you. We have already secured near 600 members. May I ask of you, if you have not already canvassed, that you do so at once? Please turn your book in to Mr. S. M. Kennard, Treasurer, $5 for each name, not later than Saturday afternoon, May 20, at 4 o'clock. We are extremely anxious to secure 2,000 names by that time.

About one-third of the number of names required were reported up to 6 o'clock last night. This morning no more names have been received, but several indefinite but satisfactory reports came in, and to-day there is to be made a general round-up in several committees. The jewelers' committee will have at least forty names, all paid, and the reports from the hardware interests are so enthusiastic that anything less than 100 names and $500 in cash will be a great disappointment.

The following subscriptions were reported last evening:

Some few firms are still subscribing as such, but instances are not very numerous and it is felt that $5 for a corporation or firm is a very small amount to contribute to so important an undertaking. In the case of the dry goods houses it was determined to get them in blocks of ten and the determination succeeded well. Most of the Washington avenue houses handing in checks of $50, the joint contribution of ten gentlemen interested in the business or occupying position, in the house. The following appeal in the form of question and answer has been prepared for the assistance of visiting committees who find it difficult to convince skeptics of the good work which will be done by the association.

ONLY ONE WAY TO DO IT.

Q. How can the smoke be prevented?

A. By joining the Citizens' Smoke Abatement Association. In other cities, notably Chicago, where so much progress has recently been made and success attained in smoke prevention, it has been due to the Citizen's Smoke Abatement Association. In no city has any good result been reached, or the smoke abated to any extent, where there has been a smoke abatement ordinance enacted, and no Citizens' Smoke Abatement Association with an ample fund to see to its enforcement. Experience in other cities teaches, that a smoke abatement ordinance is simply a dead letter and will not be enforced where there is no citizens' association with adequate means to see that it is enforced.

If you want the smoke ordinance enforced and the smoke done away with in St. Louis join the Citizens' Smoke Abatement Association by paying $5 to provide a fund for such purpose. If you do this, the Citizens' association will see that the smoke is abated.

It will be remembered that a determination was made to complete the work of obtaining 2,000 members in one week, and the week expires to-morrow evening. For this reason it is more specially urged that names be sent in to-day and to-morrow. As stated in yesterday's POST-DISPATCH the ladies are assisting, and names can be sent to the office of this paper or to the Treasurer or other officers of the association. Success is practically assured, but the moral support that would be given the movement by the rapid filling up of the association cannot fail to produce the most satisfactory results to all concerned.

For Nervous Diseases
Use Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

Dr. F. G. KELLY, Alderton, W. T., says: "I have prescribed it in a large number of cases of restlessness at night, and nervous diseases generally, and also in cases of indigestion caused by lack of sufficient gastric juice of the stomach, with marked success, and consider it one of the best remedies known to the professional world."

Volunteer Firemen.

The Volunteer Firemen's Historical Society met last night at their hall 1600 Lucas place. A large number attended The picture of the Liberty engine house and apparatus of the company was presented by Peter A. O'Neil. A sketch of the company was given by Harry M. Snyder, one of the organizers of the "Liberty." He told how the house was built in 1840 by donations of material and money gathered from the members and citizens of the neighborhood, and a humorous account of his interview with the late Peter G. Lindell who gave some rock from his quarry then being opened at the corner of Ashley and Collins streets. The same rock still lies in the foundation and Mr. Lindell insisted that every stone should be marked P. G. L.

Hon P. J. Pauly, President of the Society, thanked Mr. O'Neil for the society for his handsome present.

William Freudenau, W. P. Barlow and Capt. Joseph Boyce also addressed the meeting on interesting matters connected with the old volunteer department. Richard E. Bolton, Maj. M. J. Murphy, F. M. Brooks and John R. Slevin were elected members. The meeting adjourned until the third Thursday of next June.

$25 Reward—Paper Thieves.

A standing reward of $25 is offered by the POST-DISPATCH for the information leading to arrest and conviction of any one stealing papers from the doorsteps of subscribers. Report cases to city circulation department.

Odd Fellows Adjourn.

The final session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows was held yesterday afternoon. The retiring Grand Master installed the officers elect as follows: T. T. Parson, St. Louis, Grand Master; R. M. Abercrombie, St. Joseph, Deputy Grand Master; H. D. Carnes, Trenton, Grand Warden; E. M. Sloan, St. Louis, Grand Secretary; W. H. Thompson, St. Louis, Grand Treasurer. The appointed officers are: Rev. L. T. Minturn, Amazonia, Grand Chaplain; Dr. Rufus Gillespie, La Plata, Grand Marshal; C. T. Webster, St. Louis, Grand Conductor; C. D. Gray, Glenwood, Grand Guard; Charles Mulford, St. Louis, Grand Herald. The lodge adjourned to meet in St. Louis next May.

ROUND trip Denver ticket will be presented to first person giving dates on which Burlington Route ad. is omitted during 1893.

Political Squabble at Madison, Ill.

In the village of Madison, Ill., there has been a political dispute since the April election as to whether the Citizens' ticket, headed by Dr. C. S. Youree, or the People's ticket, headed by Charles Skeen, had been successful. Youree's ticket got the larger vote, but the old board, of which Skeen was president, claimed he won by fraud, and two boards have been officiating. At the trial of ten saloon-keepers who had paid their licenses to the treasurer of the Touree board the court at Edwardsville held that this was the legal board.

THE Globe Shoe and Clothing Co., northwest corner Franklin avenue and Seventh street, closes evenings at 6:30. Saturdays at 10:30.

Venice.

VENICE, Ill., May 19.—The cases against the Madison saloonkeepers for selling liquor without legal license were dismissed yesterday by Justice Mudge at Edwardsville. The cases came before him on a change of venue from Justice Hobson. The defendants, who have licenses issued by the legal authorities of the village, will to-day file damage suits against ex-Mayor Skeen for false imprisonment. Eight suits, each for $5,000 damages, will be filed.

The Village Clerk, M. V. Sterling, yesterday secured the books and records of the village, which had heretofore been illegally withheld from him by J. K. Pogue, formerly Acting Village Clerk. This puts the regular village authorities in possession of everything necessary to the transaction of the business of the town, with the exception of the money in the hands of ex-Treasurer J. R. Beale.

DISTRIBUTING BOYCOTT CIRCULARS.—The Diel & Bro. Hat Co. is having a good deal of trouble with the boycott put upon them by the Retail Clerks' Association. Last evening about a thousand people were entertained by the arrest at the instance of Mr. Gus Dell of Harry Joseph, Leon Levy, John Grosman and Geo. and J. T. Miller for distributing boycott circulars. At the police station the Sergeant refused to hold the prisoners, saying there was no law for such offenses.

WHAT CHINA MAY DO

His Passports Will Probably Be Given Our Minister at Peking,

AND THE EMPEROR'S REPRESENTATIVE AT WASHINGTON RECALLED.

Chinese Consuls and Officers May Also Be Withdrawn From American Ports —The Supreme Court's Decision Not Yet Sent to the Imperial Government —A Problem for Congress to Solve.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—The decision of the Supreme Court on the constitutionality of the Geary law has not yet been transmitted to his Government by the Chinese Minister at Washington, and until it has been received by the Peking authorities it is not likely that it will be known what action China will take to meet the new situation. It is said that in his interview yesterday with Secretary of State Gresham the Chinese Minister gave no intimation of the probability of his recall and the severance of diplomatic relations with this country. But in the opinion of well-informed diplomats here the Chinese Minister at Washington will present his letters of recall to the President and close up the legation in this city. Then the American Minister at Pekin will be politely requested to withdraw from China and will be furnished with passports for himself and assistants. They will also be supplied with safe conduct to the borders of the Chinese Kingdom. The Chinese Consuls and officers will also be withdrawn from duty at our ports and our consular officers at Chinese ports will be invited to go home.

The next step will be to send American citizens of all classes out of the Celestial country, accompanied by an imperial decree closing all Chinese ports to all citizens of the United States, including even tourists, and his will bring to an abrupt termination the friendly relations which have so long existed between the two countries.

Chief Justice Fuller, who did not agree with the majority of the Supreme Court, called at the State Department and had a long conference with Secretary Gresham in regard to the Chinese question. The State Department will not act in the matter until it has some definite orders from the President.

This feeling of uncertainty as to what is best to be done extends to all the other departments. No one in the Treasury Department is able to say what will be the outcome.

The situation, as one prominent official put it, is this: Congress has passed a law, the Supreme Court has sustained its constitutionality, but those upon whom the duty of its enforcement devolves find themselves bound hand and foot. In order that the law may be executed it is first necessary that the salaries of the officers and incidental expenses be provided for. There is no fund from which money for the purpose can be obtained except that appropriated by Congress.

Of this sum $16,000 remains, and only 156 Chinese have been deported. How to deport 104,000 Chinese with $16,000 is the question that is agitating the Administration.

The impression is quite general that the Administration will have to allow the present orders to collectors not to make arrests to stand. The final solution of the problem would seem to devolve on Congress, and until that body assembles it does not appear that the law can be enforced. Either the National Legislature must provide an appropriation for the enforcement of the law or repeal the act. Public sentiment tends toward the latter proposition, and secretary Carlisle received many telegraphic communications this morning asking that the law be not enforced.

One way out of the difficulty was suggested to the Treasury Department in a letter received to-day. It suggests an extension of the time in which Chinese can register. The best legal opinion here, however, declares that the department has no right to extend the time, as the law is quite explicit on this point, having set May 5 as the last day on which registration could be made.

It is seriously feared by representatives from the Pacific Slope that when Congress meets it will have to do something more than pass an appropriation of sufficient size to deport the unregistered Chinese.

Numerous claims for damages may demand more money as trouble is likely, owing to the temper of the Slope people. Many of the Californians—not the representatives—attempt to prejudify assault and possible murder by falling back upon Bret Harte and "We Are Ruined by Chinese Cheap Labor." The argument does not seem to strike Washington listeners with terrific force, as a half hour after the speaker may be heard declaiming of the climate, beauties and manifold advantages of his State, its wealth of mines and forests and the wonderful development of a civilization not a half century old. In all there is no hint of ruin by cheap labor or dear labor or any sort of labor.

WANT TO REMOVE SAM LEE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 19.—The police found numerous placards on dead walls in Chinatown which had attracted large crowds of Celestials. Translated the placards were found to offer a reward of $300 for the murder of Sam Lee, a wealthy merchant and President of the Sam Yup, one of the Six Companies. The police tore down the placards and a little later a proclamation was posted by the Chinese Consul, begging his countrymen to keep the peace at this critical time and not to allow the highbinders to engage in acts of violence. Sam Lee, it seems, was one of the prime movers in the resistance of the Geary law and has all along urged the Chinese not to register, promising them that the law would be overthrown. This was the chief cause of the plan to remove him in the highbinder fashion. Another motive is that he concerned himself too actively in the defense of a Chinaman arrested for murdering a countryman.

LANDAU LEAVES TOWN.

The Principal Witness in the Tovell Case Again Disappears.

Louis Landau, Jr., whose statement of a conversation he overheard between his mother and his step-uncles Louis and Alexander Landau resulted in the indictment of the latter for murder in the second degree, for the killing of Miss Tovell, a school teacher, on the night of Dec. 2, 1890, has again left town, and this time apparently for good. The case was set for hearing in the Criminal Court, and when Deputy Sheriff James O'Neill went to his boarding-house, 1235 Lynn street, yesterday to serve a subpœna on him he was told that his man had gone. Further inquiry developed the fact that his destination was some point in Texas, but just what part is not exactly known.

Though the case was docketed for to-day it was not the intention of either the prosecution or defense to proceed immediately to trial, the object of having it called was merely to get the witnesses together and make sure of their appearance. The latest move on the part of young Landau was to some extent anticipated and when the indictment was returned, the advisability of locking him up to secure his attendance was fully discussed. When the case was called this morning Attorney Goode for the prosecution aske for and obtained a continuance until June 26, by which time he hopes to secure the appearance of the missing witness. Should he fail to do so he claims that the case will not be materially affected, since he has a number of eye witnesses to the occurence, whose testimony he thinks will be amply sufficient to secure a conviction. A far more important witness for the prosecution is Landau's mother, who is at present in the Indian Territory, and an effort will be made to secure her attendance.

Attorney Goode professes to believe that Landau left town because of his inability to obtain employment. His relatives, against whom he lodged information, the lawyer states, secured his dismissal from the Chemical Bank, where he was employed, and have since been dogging him and have prevented him from securing work.

THE GIRL DISGRACED.

But It Is Doubtful if There Is Any Law at the Four Courts to Punish Her Betrayer.

Mrs. Treller, living at 1218 High street, called at the Prosecuting Attorney's office to-day and wanted to get a warrant against Ed Forshay, now in Kansas City, but who was formerly a waiter in a restaurant here, charging that he wronged her daughter Katie under promise of marriage. Mrs. Treller has called at the Four Courts several times, but did not know where Forshay was. To-day she showed Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Estep a letter alleged to have been written by Forshay from Kansas City to her daughter. The letter is dated May 10, and was written from 612 Elizabeth street, Kansas City. It informs the girl that he cannot marry her, because he is a married man. Mrs. Treller stated that her daughter, who was then only 17 years old, made the acquaintance of Forshay on a steamboat excursion. He took her to a house on Twelfth street, between Christy avenue and Morgan street, she alleged, and locked her in a room. The girl gave birth to a child nine days ago. Mr. Estep told Mrs. Treller to bring her daughter to his office as soon as she was able to come and he would see what could be done.

MISSING FROM HOME.

Four Unaccountable Disappearances Reported to the Police To-Day.

John Miller, 34 years old, and married, has been missing from his home, 1545 North Eighteenth street, since last Tuesday.

Albert Locke, 12 years old, has also been missing from his home, 1009 North Eleventh street, since Wednesday morning.

Jeremiah McCarthy, living at 2039 Howard street, requested the police to find his son John, 16 years old, who left home last Monday. The boy was employed at the Excelsior Express Co., at Sixth and Pine streets.

Information is also wanted of Russell C. Harris, 16 years old, who is missing from 3617 North Broadway. He left Wednesday morning.

Susie Butler, colored, 11 years old, is missing from 2813 Scott avenue.

Hear the World-Renowned Schmer Pianos, the favorite of the Eastern musical public, at Koerber's, 1108 Olive street.

Not Frohman's Company.

Mr. H. B. Warner, manager for Daniel Frohman, is very much put out over the attempt of a local dramatic organization to mislead the public into the belief that Frohman's Lyceum company would give two extra performances at Pope's. Mr. Warner said:

"I desire to state that the organization is not the Lyceum Theater company which has been playing at the Olympic Theater for the past two weeks, nor is it any of the companies connected with the Lyceum Theater, New York. The stock company of the Lyceum Theater, New York, closes its engagement here Saturday night and leaves for New York on the Sunday morning train. I also desire to state that there is no Lyceum theater in the United States which maintains a stock company except the Lyceum Theater, New York, which is under the direction of Mr. Daniel Frohman.

A Woman Burglar Sentenced.

Annie Robinson, a thief known throughout the country, was sent to the Work-house by Judge Paxson to-day on a fine of $100 for trespassing. She was arrested Wednesday afternoon while rummaging about a house in North St. Louis to which she had gained entrance by means of a pass key. She pleaded guilty and requested that she be given hours to leave town, but her petition was denied and she will spend the next twelve months in the Work-house.

She admitted in court to-day that she was an ex-convict and that she had only recently been released from the penitentiary at Joliet, Ill. The police say that she is an expert pick-pocket but her specialty is entering residences by means of pass-keys, a large bunch of which were found in her possession.

Our many customers who bought last fall as well as many prospective ones who are patiently awaiting an opportunity to buy this spring will hail this announcement with pleasure. The unprecedented success that attended our late fall sale of last year has not been forgotten, nor has it ceased to be the subject of remark.

In the face of the fact that the summer had been one noted for its numerous "free excursion" lot sales and that all that printer's ink and brass band racket could do had been done to make every man, woman and child in St. Louis a lot owner, the Kinloch Park property, late as it was put on the market, took the people by storm and hundreds of lots were sold there.

Late in the season, cold and disagreeable as it was, the people recognized a good thing and could not let it pass, they bought, many of them regretting that they had been induced earlier in the season to invest any of their savings elsewhere.

HOUSES BUILT

AND PLANS FOR MANY.

Building has already begun and two houses have been completed by parties who used their own money. Many others who will build in the same way have had their plans drawn and are receiving bids from contractors, so within a few weeks the sound of the saw, the hammer and the trowel will be heard in all directions. We will lend you money to build with or build for you on very favorable terms.

THIS TELLS THE STORY!

Weigh the facts, then glance at prices and terms.

You have but to acquaint yourself with the facts as set forth in this advertisement to appreciate the opportunity afforded.

Kinloch Park is situated at the junction of two railroads; one, the St. Louis & Suburban Electric road, the other the Wabash Railroad. The Wabash has a passenger depot and telegraph office there and the St. Louis & Suburban Electric line has no less than four depots, all of them on the Kinloch Park property. The land is high and dry, is of a porous nature, has perfect natural drainage, and will admit of cellars being dug in any part of it. The purest of water is to be had in abundance, in fact the water of a never failing spring on the property is widely celebrated for its purity and coldness. The place and its surroundings are simply beautiful, the views commanded being of the most strikingly panoramic character. The improvements that have been made are substantial and are on a liberal scale. Within the bounds of Kinloch Park, for instance, are six pretty parks that have been dedicated to the public. The broad central Boulevard and the several avenues and streets are nicely graded, street signs are up, lot stakes all numbered and everything about the place is done up in first-class style. The facilities for reaching St. Louis are splendid, both steam and electric cars are there to be used at all hours. The workingman who must be in the city early can leave Kinloch Park at 6 o'clock in the morning, by the new train arrangement, and arrive in St. Louis at 6:25; after work he can leave St. Louis at 6:25 in the evening and reach Kinloch Park at 7:10. An extension of the Ferguson service gives those two splendid trains, of course there are many others, we simply mention those two as they are particularly important ones for some people. Come and see the property.

HORNS AND BULLETS.

The Result of a Mad Cow's Charge in the Streets of a Kansas Town.

NEOSHO RAPIDS, Kan., May 19.—A mad cow charged through the streets of this city, attacking every person and thing in sight. Not less than twenty-five men on horseback armed with revolvers and guns attempted to drive her to the stock yards, but she boldly charged the cavalry and put the whole lot to flight. Although repeatedly wounded so fierce was her charge that the horse of John Reece was gored, and it was only after a fusilade of winchester balls, some of which lodged in store fronts, that an end was put to her mad career. Fortunately no one was seriously injured, although many narrow escapes were made from horns and bullets.

DISCORDANT NOTES.

Two Leading Musicians Seek Divorces From Their Wives.

ALLEGATIONS OF CARL FROEHLICH IN HIS PETITION.

Theater Orchestra Leader Domenic Sarli Makes Serious Charges Against His Wife — Louis Kaerth Seeks a Divorce for a Second Time From His Wife—Court News.

Carl Froehlich, the well-known German musician and music teacher of South St. Louis, entered suit for divorce to-day against his wife, Louise Froehlich. Mr. Froelich's petition covers four closely typewritten sheets of legal cap, and alleges enough if proven to given him two divorces. Mr. Froelich states that the pair were married in St. Louis in July, 1869, and continued to live together until the 9th day of last April except at different times when he was compelled to leave the house. Froehlich alleges that his wife is of an insanely jealous and quarrelsome disposition and that her jealousy and quarreling has rendered life a burden to him. He states that frequently she has started quarrels with him in front of strangers without provocation, and that during these quarrels in the presence of witnesses she has called him names unfit for publication. He claims that at times she has gone to heads of families wherein he had pupils and told them slanderous tales, thereby injuring him in his profession. In the fall of 1887 Mrs. Froelich slandered him, she alleges, to Mrs. Suessdorf and requested her to discharge him as musical instructor, and that while he has always furnished her with money and servants she did not run the house properly and neglected to have the meals ready at the proper time. In 1887 he left her, but returned after her promise to do better. But soon after he returned, he alleges, she again commenced having the meals at irregular hours. Mr. Froehlich charges that that by her conduct she has estranged several of their children by charging him in their presence with having committed adultery with the servants and other women. In May, 1893, she called him a "Neunfacher Ehebrecher," a German expression signifying that he had committed adultry nine times. On another occasion the plaintiff charges his wife with having kicked the face off his portrait and saying she had killed the "blackguard's" picture.

In 1886 a lady visitor from Cape Girardeau was at their home. She charged him with holding a criminal conversation with the lady whom she called names reflecting upon her chastity. He also charges her with having divulged family secrets about him which caused him great mortification. While in Germany on a tour placing their children in a German University, she said she had no use for him, he alleges and he could leave her. There are eight children and Mr. Froelich desires the custody of six of them, who are minors. The Froelichs now reside at 1026 Morrison avenue.

Leader Sarli Prays for Separation.

Domenic Sarli, leader of Pope's Theater orchestra, filed a suit for a divorce to-day against Ella J. Sarli. He also states that they were married in February 1888, and separated from each other on March 25, 1893. He states that shortly after their marriage the defendant developed a very large-sized temper and abused the plaintiff in a most shameful manner. She called him vile names and upon one occasion she struck at him with a knife and fork. She has made life so unhappy for him that he prays for a decree of divorce.

Wants to Break His Will.

The suit of Robert B. Hegney, by his next friend, Edward Hegney, to set aside the will of Mary Fitzsimmons, came up for trial before Judge Fisher last evening, but was not reached until late this afternoon on account of a rather lengthy law docket. The plaintiff states that when Mary Fitzsimmons made the will under which the disposition of her property was made she was an inmate of the House of the Immaculate Conception and was unduly influenced by the sisters and the priests. She leaves Robert Hegney, her grandson, $1,500, and to Rev. J. J. Head, pastor of the Annunciation Church, $200. To Rev. W. Kendrick, pastor and member of the English branch of St. Vincent's Parish, $200. To the Little Sisters of the Poor she leaves $500. To the Sisters of St. Joseph, $500, and to Florence Smith, President of St. Mary's Seminary, $500: She turns the residue over to Fr. Kendrick to apply in the manner she directed.

For a Boy's Death.

In the suit for $5,000 against Publisher Geo. Knapp & Co., brought by John Lee and Elizabeth Lee, a special jury was sworn to-day in Judge Withrow's Court. The plaintiffs state in their petition that their son, Robert B. Lee, was killed by falling down the elevator shaft of the Republic Building, at the southeast corner of Third and Chestnut streets, on Sept. 12, 1892. They state that the elevator is a shaky, tumble-down affair, badly guarded at the doorways and operated by a boy who was incompetent to manage it. The trial of the case will commence to-morrow morning.

Asks Heavy Damages.

W. C. Hull filed an ejectment suit against the City of St. Louis to-day, claiming $24,000 damages upon certain parcels of property in the western part of the city.

Mr. Hull claims that the city is in unlawful possession of the southwest corner of Grand and Kossuth avenues, southwest corner Lee and Grand avenues, northwest corner Lee and Grand avenues, northwest corner Grand and O'Bear avenues and the northwest corner of Prairie and Kossuth avenues.

CALLS IT SPITE WORK.

Mrs. Helen Gougar Raises a Row in the Chicago Congress.

CHICAGO, May 19.—While hundreds of ladies were hurrying to and fro today in the corridors of the Art Institute, where the great Congress of representative women is in progress what is reported to have been a stormy conference concerning the celebrated Mrs. Helen N. Gougar was being held close at hand in the office of President Bonney. The venerable President it is said had a hard time trying to pacify the excited women participating.

A letter from Mrs. Henrotin, Vice-President of the Woman's Congress, denied that any order had been issued discriminating against Mrs. Cougar as a speaker in the Congress. Mr. Cougar declared herself satisfied. No one seemed anxious to say who was responsible for the statement formally denied by Vice-President Henrotin. Mrs. Gougar to reporters spoke of spite work, and was about to say something regarding Mrs. May Sewall but checked herself. Mrs. Sewell is President of the National Council of women and has taken a prominent part in the congress. Mrs. Gougar's name has not appeared on any of the printed programmes of the Congress. Both Mrs. Sewall and Mrs. Gougar are from the same State—Indiana. Mrs. Sewall left for the West after the matter was settled.

HOW WIMAN STANDS.

A Statement of the Financier's Owings and Ownings.

NEW YORK, May 19.—From indisputable sources it is learned that Erastus Wiman's total liabilities will aggregate about $617,000, a little more or less, according to whether certain contingent debts are counted in. He has a large amount of these contingent debts as indorser of notes to carry on the projects of several of his companies, especially the Electric Power Co. of Staten Island.

To put the plans of that corporation in operation Mr. Wiman indorsed nearly $130,000 in notes. About $100,000 of this sum is claimed by Austin B. Fletcher for his clients, which are banks in Boston and elsewhere in New England, besides a few private lenders there. Whether Mr. Wiman will have to shoulder these notes as a private individual will depend on his ability to make the Electric company pay as a corporation and become able to carry its own burdens, for he owns all but twenty shares of the stock.

Mr. Wiman's indebtedness to R. G. Dun & Co. is the largest single item. Of this he owes nearly the entire sum—$300,000—to Mr. Dun personally. Other debts are $50,000 to H. S. Archer, $160,000 to E. A. Wood, on a judgment; between $30,000 and $35,000 to the Central National Bank, $14,000 to Ladenburgh, Thalmann & Co. and about $30,000 to the Chemical National Bank, about $50,000 to Staten Island banks. In Mr. Wiman's assets are included the real estate on Staten Island, variously estimated at from very little to $400,000, all except twenty shares of the stock of the Electric Power Co. of Staten Island, which is in the hands of Receiver Boardman; 600 Staten Island income bonds, which are quoted at from 10 to 30 per cent of their face value of $10,000 each, and a few shares in the Staten Island Railroad Co. and the Staten Island Rapid Transit Co.

The value of these are greatly increased by time, and it rests with the creditors whether they will wait and, perhaps, develop some of the property, or whether they think it wiser to realize at once and pocket their losses.

PROSECUTING A BROKEN BANKER.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 19.—W. H. Schureman, proprietor of the Exchange Bank at Normal, which failed Tuesday last, was arrested yesterday five times upon five warrants sworn out by depositors, charging him with embezzlement. He was admitted to bail in all the cases. He is charged with violating the law, which provides that any banker or person doing banking business who shall receive any money or valuable thing when at the time he is insolvent, to shall be guilty of embezzlement. The liabilities of the bank are about $100,000, and the assets, it is believed, will not exceed $3,500. Schureman yesterday made an assignment.

To-day Schureman was taken to jail on another warrant charging embezzlement. Friends offered to furnish bail, but he would not allow it.

N. W. HARRIS & CO. ALL RIGHT.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 19.—The sale of 600,000 bushels of corn on 'Change yesterday was for the account of N. H. Warren & Co., and not as erroneously reported, for N. W. Harris & Co. The firm of N. W. Harris & Co. confines its business solely to the handling of stocks and bonds and does not deal in grain, while the firm of N. H. Warren & Co. deals only in grain. Harris & Co. have no connection with the affair. N. H. Warren is quoted this morning as saying that his house expects to resume its business in cash grain, but will refrain from accepting orders to buy or sell for future delivery.

DISMISSED THEIR SUITS.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 19.—Wm. Deering & Co. have dismissed all their attachment suits against the National Cordage Co. at their own cost, leaving the receivers in undisputed possession of the properties of the National Cordage Co.

ATTACHED A STEEL COMPANY.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Deputy Sheriff Tracy has received an attachment for $223,887 against the West Superior Iron and Steel Co. in favor of Richard W. G. Welling as assignee of Francis H. Weeks, the missing lawyer.

ON 'CHANGE.

Grain.

Wheat—A strong tone and a good sharp reaction were the features of this morning's market. The buying was active and snappy, the bulls full of confidence and ginger and the bears tender and nervous over the unexpected up-turn. Opening ⅛c higher the market went up at a sprinting gait ⅞c more. The pace was too hot to hold and the price then dropped back ⅜c, but later came very strong again and recovered nearly to the top. The close was ¾c above yesterday, with sellers. The advance of this morning was based principally upon sentiment, as no particularly bullish factors were on hand. But more confidence was felt over the monetary situation, as money was reported easier and stocks generally firm, and this had an inspiring effect. Backed up by some reports of wheat going back in this State, and further West there was thus created the sharp demand that put prices up. The weather conditions in this country were favorable and according to early cables were so also across the water, and the foreign markets were dull, with Liverpool ½d lower and cargoes at London off 3d. Receipts were light everywhere, except at Duluth and Minneapolis, but so also were the exports small—68,000 pkgs flour and 34,000 bu wheat from four ports. While the early public cables were lower the talk was that private cables were higher, but the latest Beerbohm quoted Liverpool ½d lower, Paris 1¼c off and Antwerp a turn easier, and London reported quiet and unchanged and Berlin ⅝c lower. These did not affect the markets on this side, however, to any extent.

FUTURES—July opened at 71¼c and sold to 71⅝@¾c to 71⅝@¾c to 72⅛c to 71⅜@½c to 72c to 71⅝c, closing at 71⅝c seller. Aug sold at 73⅛c to 73¼c, to 73c, to 73⅜c, closing at 73⅜c. Sept sold at 74⅞c to 75¼@⅛c, closing at 75⅛c sellers. June sold at 69⅛c. May offered at 69c, bid 68¼c.

SPOT GRADES—Higher and a better demand, city millers buying No 2 red at 3¼c under July price and carriers paying 68¼c for regular. No 3 red offered regular at 66c, bid 64½c for St L and M, 65½c for U and A. No other grades offered. Bids on call of 56c for No 4 winter, 45c for regular, 65c for No 2 hard winter in C.

Sales: No 2 red—2,400 bu and 8 cars regular at 68¼c, 10,000 bu this side p t.

SAMPLES—Received 335 sks and 12 cars local, 1 car through. The market ruled quiet and was about unchanged. Sales: Red winter—50 sks musty and 203 weevily at 52c, 240 sks at 60c del. 32 at 65c, 199 prime at 67c, 350 about choice at 68c, 270 at 68½c, 360 fancy at 68¾c, 112 at 69c. This side, track—1 car No 2 at 69½c. East track—1 car smutty at 52c, 1 car No 3 at 67½c, 2 cars No 2 at 70c.

Corn—The rally in wheat strengthened this market. There was some buying for a reaction, and the selling was small and scattered, but the trading was almost purely professional, as very few orders were here. All domestic markets were better, and there was the promise of a change to wet weather, but no reports were heard against crop prospects and conditions, receipts were larger and foreign markets dull and easy. The advance of ⅜c established was pretty well maintained, and the close was ⅜c above yesterday.

FUTURES—July opened at 39⅜c and sold 39½c, and ranged between 39⅜c and 39⅝c, the balance of the session closing at 39⅝c sellers. September sold at 40½c. May and June neglected. No 2 white—May, 40c bid, June 40½c bid, offered at 41c, July 40½c bid, offered at 42½c.

SPOT GRADES—Not much demand and sellers firm, yet more No 2 offering than could be sold, as few orders here and little wanted locally. No 2 sold regular ¼c higher at 39¼c, but more offered this side at that and unsold. A round lot E side sold at 39½c, though for car lots 39¼c bid on call. No 3 not offered and 39c bid E side. No 2 white salable regular at 40¼c. No 3 do offered at 40c no bid.

Sales: No 2—3 cars in D and 1 regular at 39¼c, 5,000 bu East side at 39⅝c. No 2 white—1 car this side at 40¼c.

SAMPLES—Very little offered and quiet. Sales: Track this side—2 cars white p t. Sacked lots on orders, 47@48c.

Oats—May shorts started in by paying 33c, but more offered than wanted at that, and later sold at 32½c, which was the same as yesterday. July offered at 28c, bid 27½c; Aug at 27½c, and Sept at 27c, bid 25½c for each.

SPOT GRADES—No 2 offered regular at 33c, bid 31½c; No 3 in M at 30c, bid 29½c regular.

SAMPLES—Received, 10 cars. Offerings small, but as there was little life to the demand trading was not large. Prices show no change. White was mainly traded in and local dealers the only buyers.

Sales: Special bin—3 cars No. 2 at 32½c, 9 No 3 white at 33c, 3 do at 33½c, 1 do at 32½c, 1 stained No 2 white, at 34c, 1 No 2 white at 34½c. Track this side—1 car musty No 2 at 32½c. Sacks—100 mixed stained and soft at 31½c. Sacked lots on orders, 36@37c.

Rye—A small lot of 18 sks thin sold at 63½c. No grades offered and no bids.

Hay.

Received, 405 tons; shipped, 165 tons. There was no change in the market. The best hay was in limited supply and good demand at prices ruling the past few days. Mixed and prairie were in fair request and, while not showing the same strength as bright green timothy, were steady.

Sales this side: Mixed—2 cars at $11, 1 at $11.50, 2 at $12, 1 at $12.50, 1 at $13, 1 at $13.50. Timothy—1 car strictly prime at $14.50, 2 choice at $15, 1 fancy at $16, 1 strictly do at $16.50. Prairie—1 car coarse Northern at $7.50. Kansas 1 car at $9, 2 at $10, 4 at $10.50, 2 at $11. East Side—2 cars timothy at $14.50.

Flour and Feed.

Flour—There was no demand to speak of and the feeling was weak. The market was in buyers' favor, and yet there was no disposition to purchase. Sales: 183 sks at $1.85 per bbl, 1 car bbls at $2.75 and $3.15, 3 cars and 250 bbls on p t.

Received 3,329 cases; shipped 1,445 cases. The market was again firmer, as arrivals are running light, while the demand was very good for desirable stock. Quotations are now taking a wide range, as a good portion of the stock coming is showing the effects of warmer weather and sales are made according to quality. There are no encouraging features to the situation, and while receivers are doing the best they can for their shippers in the disposition of the wool now coming, they are compelled to meet the views of dealers, who continue to take hold in a very indifferent manner, even at present prices, as they are unable to get orders from manufacturers.

Liverpool receipts past three days, 170,000 bu wheat, of which 110,000 bu from America, and 160,000 bu corn.

An extremely low barometer is reported from North Dakota, being at Bismarck as low as 28.90 inches. This is causing very high southerly gales from Missouri northward, changing to westerly in Nebraska. Rain is falling in the extreme northwest, and will probably occur in sections farther east and north of Missouri on the approach of cooler weather behind the storm.

A cable from Hamburg states the weather is dry again in North Germany.

A Paris cable reports the weather changeable and prices maintained.

New Orleans cleared for Hamburg 1,200 sks flour and 51,024 bu corn.

A Marseilles cable says the weather and crop prospects in France and Russia are favorable.

It is asserted that country banks are insisting upon the immediate payment of farmers' notes. It is, however, one thing to insist and another to force the farmer to pay his notes.

The Merchants' Exchange closes at noon to-morrow and the cash call will begin at 11 o'clock.

Offerings of corn by the country are larger, the advance of 4c per 100-lbs from Nebraska points that goes into effect June 10 causing country holders to loosen up and press their stocks for sale.

Continental wheat stocks on May 1 were 19,624,000 bu, an increase of about 50,000 bu over April 1. In Paris and French ports 6,444,000 bu were held, where there were 6,288,000 bu on April 1 and the greatest decreases were in Russian markets.

Reports from various points in Manitoba up to Thursday a week stated that wheat seeding was almost finished in some districts, and the earliest fields were beginning to show green. The most of the reports give one-half to nearly finished with wheat seeding, but a few reports were to the effect that seeding was still delayed on account of wet land. Such low districts, however, form but a limited portion of the total crop area. On May 1 it was estimated about 6,500,000 bu was held in stock at Manitoba points.

The Government foreign crop report for May, just received to-day, says that, "Winter crops throughout Europe are in fairly good condition, though seriously retarded by drought. Spring crops generally are at a stand still and in great danger from extreme drought."

Chicago Market Letter.

Private Wire to J. P. Grier.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 19.—We have had a moderately active wheat market since the opening. The general condition of the growing crop of winter is unchanged. The reports from the spring crops are favorable and with fine weather we should have a full average. Foreign advices are rather weak, but not quotably lower. There may not be much profit to buy it in the near future. Our opinion is until we get nearer the crop it will pay to buy on declines from to-day's prices. The corn market has been steady. The feature to-day has been liquidation by holders and buying by local operators. The reports from the corn belt are all very favorable of the growing crop and advices are the movement will largely increase.

The demand is good and we look for it to continue so. In oats not much doing. The growing crop looks well and the feeling is rather bearish. The cash demand is good. Provisions strong from the opening. The commodity is in the hands of one or two men and they can, if they please, dictate terms at what they will sell or settle. F. G. LOGAN & Co.

LIVE STOCK.

National Stock Yards.

Cattle—Receipts 610 head. The scant supply of natives was not enough to make a representative market, but there was a good local demand and everything sold at strong values considering the inferior quality. The Texas market opened with 19 car loads, principally grassers. There was an active demand and some competition between buyers none of whom could obtain all the cattle they wanted. The market was strong at 10c higher than Thursday and 20c advance was established over Wednesday's prices.

NEW YORK, 9 a. m.—There is surely nothing unfavorable (?) in the general news of the day. The most intelligent traders and stock brokers said last evening that there was nothing alarming in the reports and intelligences received that might indicate any further important reaction in prices, although they admitted that the tone was rather irregular and prices fell off about 1 per cent on the average from the highest range at the close yesterday. The bears in the room observing the quiet selling out yesterday by some of the solid buyers of last week stopped buying in their shorts, and this also tended to make the easier closing up at 3 p. m. Jim Keene and a Broadway house were the only buyers, and they have to come in on weak reports and bid prices up, or the market would go to pieces again. This is what the bears say. In some cases the advance established has been considerable and almost too rapid, hence there are moderate setbacks, but it is a good time to buy for a long, good pull to hold for handsome profits later on. The advance in whisky of five points yesterday and the subsequent loss of five points puzzled the shorts considerably, but the slump is explained by a suit against the trust in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 19.—Wheat turned firm today, largely on the theory that lesser holders had pretty well liquidated and that the market was practically bare of wheat. Cables, too, were not as weak as expected. Foreigners were reported buyers at New York, and New York was buying here. Locally Linn, Cudahy and other important traders were purchasers. People who put wheat last night were buying it back. Congdon, just returned from a two-weeks' trip west, was emphatic in disparaging the Kansas crop On the other hand, receipts were very large everywhere, exports very light and the weather perfect. July opened ⅛c higher, at 73⅞c, advanced to 74⅝@⅜c and declined to 74⅛c. Corn was firm with wheat. July opened unchanged at 42½c, advanced to 42⅝c and reacted to 42⅜@½c. Provisions were stronger on the light receipts of hogs. Sept pork opened 5c higher at $21.10, advanced to $21.30 and reacted to $21.25 asked.

11:50 a m—Wheat—July, 74⅜c; Sept, 77⅛@¼c. Corn—July, 42¼@⅜c; Sept 42⅞@43c. Oats—July, 28⅞@29c; Sept, 26⅞@⅞c. Pork—July, $21.00; Sept, $21.25. Lard, Sept, 11.10c. Ribs—July, 10.17½c; Sept, 10.25c.

Wall Street.

WALL STREET, May 19, 10:10 a. m.—The feature of the share speculation at the opening was the break in Distillers of 2½ per cent to 14½, and the announcement that the Attorney-General of Indiana had instituted a suit against the company alleging that it had perverted its powers. This legal development and the bond issue kept the stock feverish and weak this morning. The general market was firm as a rule, notwithstanding the statement that Lazard Freres will ship $1,500,000, and Heidelback, Eickelheimer & Co., $500,000 in gold to Europe to-morrow.

LIVERPOOL, May 19.—Close—Pork demand fair; unchanged. Lard—Demand poor; spot dull, 53s 3d. Wheat demand moderate: No 2 red winter steady, 5s 9d. Flour demand fair, unchanged. Corn—Demand more steady; cash, 4s; June steady, 4s 2¼d; July steady, 4s 2¾d.

11 a. m.—The stock market gathered strength after the opening. Prices advanced right through the list. The paucity of stocks offering was chiefly responsible for the improvement. The advance was equal to ½ to 2½ per cent, the latter in Distillers. At 11 a m the market was firm in tone.

Noon—Money on call easy, 2@2½. Prime mercantile paper 6@8 per cent. Sterling exchange is firm; bankers' bills, 484½@¾ for sixty days, and 489@¼ for demand. Posted rates, 485½@490. Commercial bills, 483@483¼. The stock market made a further advance after 11 a m, and the rise was helped along by London purchases. At noon the market was steady in tone.

Smoked in Court.

Patrick Condon, who had a case in the First District Police Court to-day, in which he was charged with driving off a buggy belonging to Edward Hemminghaus of 1513 Hogan street, came into court with his hat on and smoking a cigar. He was called on by the Court Marshal to remove his hat and quit smoking, but he paid no heed, when Judge Morris fined him $5 for contempt. Not producing the $5 he was locked up. Hemminghaus did not appear against Condon in the case against him, and it was continued until to-morrow, and a subpoena issued against Hemminghaus.
